Three School Levies Lose, Board Faces Fund Dilemma

Hold-Down In Spending Troops' Key

WASHINGTON (AP) — The severe hold-down on defense spending could delay the return of some U.S. troops to Europe for maneuvers until next summer or later, Pentagon sources say.

The timing of such a move, which was agreed to when the United States started withdrawal of about 33,000 troops last spring, is still under debate at the top levels of government.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford gave the impression Tuesday that the questions had been all but decided—that between 20,000 and 40,000 U.S. troops would be returned to Europe earlier than had been originally planned.

But Pentagon sources familiar with the situation disputed this impression on two counts.

In the first place, they said top State and Defense Department authorities are trying to decide now when to schedule the exercise. And secondly, they said, any troop movement would involve possibly 10,000 to 12,000 troops, rather than the larger figure.

Clifford used the 20,000 to 40,000 troop figure as the total force, including troops already there, that would participate in the European maneuvers, these sources said.

According to this picture of internal debate, there are three main points of view contesting the issue:

—Some officials believe it is important to accelerate the movement of troops back to Europe to demonstrate a U.S. resolve to stand behind NATO at a time when the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia has touched off jitters within the alliance.

—Some other authorities are opposed to hurrying up the maneuvers. They favor proceeding with the original plan of holding the exercises sometime before mid-1969.

—Budgeting officials, however, would prefer delaying the movement at least until the next fiscal year, which begins July 1.

The Pentagon is under orders to cut defense spending this year by $3 billion and has been scratching around for every possible economy. Since Vietnam and strategic weapons programs are exempt, many other elements of the defense structure have had to bear the brunt of the economies.

It has been calculated that the Pentagon will save $30 million this year as a result of the virtually completed withdrawal of some 33,000 troops from Europe.

Voters Oppose New Issue By 3-To-1 Margin

Next Move Eyed

School administrators were taking a hard look at the East Liverpool School District finances today in the wake of a defeat of three levies, but indicated program additions made to meet state standards will not be eliminated at present.

Supt. Paul Blair and Samuel W. Brown, board of education president, expressed disappointment over the rejection of the levies — a new 7-mill proposal to meet new state standards and two renewals for current operations which will not expire until 1969.

Both said the two renewals again will be resubmitted.

Plans were being made to hold a meeting of the board to analyze the results of the special election and to map plans for the reduction of the 1969 budget.

"WE WILL have to meet state minimum standards for education," Supt. Blair commented.

"As stated by Dr. Martin Essex at the dedication of the new schools Sunday, we have the finest physical education plant in Ohio. We are the only district in the state with all-post World War II buildings, and I think with these facilities to give our students anything less than a topflight educational program is depriving them of something they deserve."

"I think that to under-educate a child is actually to cause his life to not be fulfilled, and I feel that if we have to cheapen our education program, then we are forced to cheapen his life."

"I hope that the taxpayers in East Liverpool will soon realize that with the tremendous investment, not just in the physical plants, but in the future of our city, we need to keep aware of the fact that the kids must come first because they are our replacement in society."

Supt. Blair said there will have to be a revision of the budget. "We were required by law to include anticipated income in the budget. It will have to be reduced by the 7-mills, which would amount to approximately $375,000."

THE TOTAL amount realized from all three levies would have been approximately $1,007,000, Miss Kathryn Leibschner, clerk of the board of education, said this morning.

Brown said he was working at the Post Office annex last evening and did not hear that all of the levies had gone down in defeat until about 10:30.

He said, "We will continue to

Renewals Edged

East Liverpool School District voters posed an immediate financial dilemma for the Board of Education and a delayed action fiscal crisis for 1969 by rejecting at a special election Tuesday all three levies totalling 19 mills which had been proposed to bring the system up to state minimum standards and continue operating funds.

The 43-precinct district rejected by an overwhelming margin a new 7-mill levy designed to help the district meet the state's requirements Renewals of 11-mill and 1-mill propositions that do not expire until the end of 1969 were turned down by lesser margins.

THE NEW levy was snowed under by a margin of more than 3-to-1. The complete, unofficial tabulation compiled by the County Election Board showed:

For the Issue	1,144
Against Issue	3,572

The 11-mill levy came closest to victory, losing by a margin of just 210 votes. The count showed:

For the Issue	2,102
Against Issue	2,422

The 1-mill renewal was turned down by 357 votes. The tabulation showed:

For the Issue	2,156
Against Issue	2,513

The total vote in the district was 4,738. The district is comprised of East Liverpool's 34 precincts, all six in Liverpool Township and three in St. Clair Township.

THE NEW 7-mill levy failed to come even close to a majority in any of the city's four wards or the townships.

East End — the First Ward—overwhelmed the levy. The count showed 148 in favor of the issue and 632 against.

The Second Ward, which usually supports such issues, rejected the renewal by a margin of close to 3-to-1. It cast 367 in favor of the levy and 926 against. The Third Ward showed 165 favorable votes, but 440 against.

In the Fourth Ward, 177 voted in favor of the levy, with 781 against. The combined vote in the seven township precincts showed 287 in favor of the levy and 793 against. A total of 1,084 township residents voted on the three issues.

The Second Ward gave a slim favorable margin to the 11-mill renewal. It was rejected in the other three wards and the townships. The Second Ward cast 662 in favor of the 11-mill proposition and 585 against.

In the First Ward, the 11-mill proposition received 285 favor-

20,000 August Estimate

Red Infiltration Into South Drops

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese infiltration into South Vietnam appears to be on the downward trend but is still estimated at 20,000 men in August, U.S. military sources said today.

Their estimate continued an up-and-down trend that has prevailed for the past four months: 30,000 in May, 20,000 in June and 30,000 in July. All are estimates.

The U.S. Defense Department had predicted earlier that infiltration in August again would total 30,000. But the sources in Saigon said they did not consider the estimated reduction to be a sign of de-escalation in the North Vietnamese war effort.

They suggested three possible reasons for the reduction: The Communist command may have filled its units to the strength it feels it can support, air strikes by American bombers on infiltration routes, and monsoon floods which slowed traffic along the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos.

The sources also reported that three North Vietnamese divisions, totaling perhaps 25,000 to 30,000 men, are now concentrated along the demilitarized zone frontier between North and South Vietnam, possibly readying for a new thrust against allied outposts below the DMZ.

Continuing the air campaign to blunt that buildup, U.S. B52s made two raids Tuesday on troop concentrations, supply areas and base camps in the northern half of the DMZ and just inside North Vietnam.

Meanwhile, American infantry from the 25th Division knocked out nearly half of an attacking enemy battalion Tuesday northwest of Saigon, raising to at least 259 the number of enemy troops they have killed in that war hotspot this week.

Elsewhere along the northwest infiltration corridor to Saigon, another force of 25th Division infantrymen reported killing 11 enemy troops seven miles southeast of the provincial capital of Tay Ninh. They had killed 117 in the area Sunday and Monday.

U.S. B52 bombers also concentrated on that jungled area. Of 10 B52 raids Tuesday night and today, five went into the northwest corridor.

Only scattered skirmishes and shelling were reported elsewhere.

HHH Claims Nixon 'Hawk' On Viet War

Also Scornful Of Third Party Race Wallace Mounted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, in a major escalation of his attacks on Richard M. Nixon, says the Republican presidential candidate "is farther to the hawk side" on the Vietnam war than anyone in the current administration.

The vice president put the hawk label on Nixon Tuesday during a stopover in Rochester, N.Y., before returning to Washington from a one-day trip to the Empire State.

In an interview show taped in Buffalo for television, Humphrey was scornful of the third party race mounted by former Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

"I can only say one thing for Mr. Wallace's candidacy. I think it's bad news for the United States," he said.

In a speech to party workers in Buffalo, Humphrey strongly criticized Nixon for saying he favors Senate ratification of the

Senate's Debate Slated On Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — After months of skirmishing, debate will begin in the Senate next week that will end in either confirmation of a new chief justice or bitter defeat for President Johnson and his nominee.

The stage was set Tuesday when the Senate Judiciary Committee voted 11-6 to recommend acceptance of the nomination of Abe Fortas to the floor.

Despite a delay of more than two months, the favorable vote had been expected. But the future, holding the certainty of harsh debate and the probability of a filibuster, is clouded.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield said he plans to bring the nomination up the first of next week. He said the first attempt to limit debate probably will be made after four days.

President Johnson nominated his old friend and long-time adviser to succeed Earl Warren last June 26.

The Republican senators spearheading opposition to the appointment charged the White House was bringing great pressure to bear in behalf of Fortas.

Just this week top Johnson aides refused to testify before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which for the first time personally questioned a nominee for chief justice.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., leader of the opposition, said after the committee approval that his forces were steadily gaining strength. He stopped short, however, of claiming enough votes at this stop to defeat the nomination on a simple majority vote.

"We are prepared and ready to go," Griffin said when asked if opponents were organized to carry on a filibuster.

"There is so much opposition and so many senators want to talk that the debate is bound to go on for some time," said Griffin.

Mansfield said in an interview that it will be difficult to cut off

Nixon Aides Already Toil Over Budget

But Nominee Says Polls Not Making Him Too Confident

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard Nixon already has men at work overhauling the federal budget and is sending a personal emissary abroad, preparing in midcampaign for a Republican White House.

But even as he took those steps, in anticipation of a Nov. 5 election victory, the Republican presidential nominee said the public opinion polls that show him running ahead are not going to lull the GOP into overconfidence.

"The pollsters have been wrong all year long," Nixon said. "And so consequently, even though the polls show me ahead, all that I did when I heard the news about the Gallup Poll was to give orders to pour on the coal."

Nixon bid for votes in populous California Tuesday night with a statewide television show, one in a series of live voter interview programs in the major states.

He accused Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic rival, of wavering on issues. "Before we can have a debate between Nixon and Humphrey, Humphrey's got to settle his debate with himself," Nixon said.

"It's Humphrey vs. Humphrey. He's taken positions on twice as many issues because

After Asking For Ride

Youth Is Held At Lisbon For Stabbing Of Teacher

A 16-year-old youth is in custody of county juvenile authorities at Lisbon after admitting he stabbed a 25-year-old East Liverpool schoolteacher who yielded to his pleas for a ride from the St. Clair Shopping Plaza to the downtown area early Tuesday night, police said.

Miss Frances Leon of 812 Lang St., stabbed in the abdomen with a paring knife at 7:07 p.m., while her car was halted at a traffic signal at W. 9th St. and Dresden Ave., identified the boy as her assailant.

Although he fled on foot and disappeared in the West End area, the boy was taken into custody at his home three and a half hours later as a result of an investigation made by officers who had only meager clues.

Although admitting the stabbing, the boy could give no reason, officers said. He was a patient for three months in 1967 at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center in Columbus.

Miss Leon, a Westgate School teacher, was treated and released at City Hospital. Officers said the knife made a puncture wound about a half - inch in depth in the right side of her abdomen.

Miss Leon told officers when she emerged from a drugstore at the plaza the youth approached and asked her for a ride downtown. She denied his request repeatedly, but he insisted that he must go to a doctor's office and that it was "important," so she finally acceded to his entreaties, she said.

While en route downtown, the teacher and the boy talked about school work and "everything appeared normal," she said. When she halted her car for the traffic light at W. 9th and Dresden, the boy began to place his hand

Prayer Halts Safecrackers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Prayer panicked a couple of safecrackers who attempted to rob the Fairlawn Baptist Church.

The church has a 24-hour-a-day "dial a prayer service" activated by a telephone call. Detective Chief W. P. Huston said two men were at work in the church trying to open the safe with a cutting torch when someone dialed a prayer and the tape machine automatically began to play.

In Report To Judge

Jury Asks More Deputies And Training For Police

LISBON — The Columbiana County grand jury's report recommends additional deputies for the sheriff's department and more training for all police officers.

Frank A. Dawson of East Liverpool, jury foreman, handed the report to Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court at noon Tuesday.

The panel of 15 men and women recommended that the sheriff's office "should be given a minimum of 12 additional deputies, believing that eight field men are not giving us the protection that we feel we are entitled to."

"Furthermore, we believe that training should be given to all police officers in some academy of learning that would give them greater knowledge in presenting testimony before a grand jury and in furthering the cause of justice in our county."

The report said all municipalities and the county government should provide funds to enable the officers to obtain such training.

Three School Levies Lose, Board Faces Fund Dilemma

Hold-Down In Spending Troops' Key

WASHINGTON (AP) — The severe hold-down on defense spending could delay the return of some U.S. troops to Europe for maneuvers until next summer or later, Pentagon sources say.

The timing of such a move, which was agreed to when the United States started withdrawal of about 33,000 troops last spring, is still under debate at the top levels of government.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford gave the impression Tuesday that the questions had been all but decided—that between 20,000 and 40,000 U.S. troops would be returned to Europe earlier than had been originally planned.

But Pentagon sources familiar with the situation disputed this impression on two counts.

In the first place, they said top State and Defense Department authorities are trying to decide now when to schedule the exercise. And secondly, they said, any troop movement would involve possibly 10,000 to 12,000 troops, rather than the larger figure.

Clifford used the 20,000 to 40,000 troop figure as the total force, including troops already there, that would participate in the European maneuvers, these sources said.

According to this picture of internal debate, there are three main points of view contesting the issue:

—Some officials believe it is important to accelerate the movement of troops back to Europe to demonstrate a U.S. resolve to stand behind NATO at a time when the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia has touched off jitters within the alliance.

The Pentagon is under orders to cut defense spending this year by $3 billion and has been scratching around for every possible economy. Since Vietnam and strategic weapons programs are exempt, many other elements of the defense structure have had to bear the brunt of the economies.

It has been calculated that the Pentagon will save $30 million this year as a result of the virtually completed withdrawal of some 33,000 troops from Europe.

Renewals Edged

East Liverpool School District voters posed an immediate financial dilemma for the Board of Education and a delayed action fiscal crisis for 1969 by rejecting at a special election Tuesday all three levies totalling 19 mills which had been proposed to bring the system up to state minimum standards and continue operating funds.

The 43-precinct district rejected by an overwhelming margin a new 7-mill levy designed to help the district meet the state's requirements. Renewals of 11-mill and 1-mill propositions that do not expire until the end of 1969 were turned down by lesser margins.

THE NEW levy was snowed under by a margin of more than 3-to-1. The complete, unofficial tabulation compiled by the County Election Board showed:

The 1-mill renewal was turned down by 357 votes. The tabulation showed:

THE NEW 7-mill levy failed to come even close to a majority in any of the city's four wards or the townships.

East End — the First Ward—overwhelmed the levy. The count showed 148 in favor of the issue and 632 against.

The Second Ward, which usually supports such issues, rejected the renewal by a margin of close to 3-to-1. It cast 367 in favor of the levy and 926 against. The Third Ward showed 165 favorable votes, but 440 against.

20,000 August Estimate

Red Infiltration Into South Drops

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese infiltration into South Vietnam appears to be on the downward trend but is still estimated at 20,000 men in August, U.S. military sources said today.

Their estimate continued an up-and-down trend that has prevailed for the past four months: 30,000 in May, 20,000 in June and 30,000 in July. All are estimates.

The U.S. Defense Department had predicted earlier that infiltration in August again would total 30,000. But the sources in Saigon said they did not consider the estimated reduction to be a sign of de-escalation in the North Vietnamese war effort.

They suggested three possible reasons for the reduction: The Communist command may have filled its units to the strength it feels it can support, air strikes by American bombers on infiltration routes, and monsoon floods which slowed traffic along the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard Nixon already has men at work overhauling the federal budget and is sending a personal emissary abroad, preparing in midcampaign for a Republican White House.

But even as he took those steps, in anticipation of a Nov. 5 election victory, the Republican presidential nominee said the public opinion polls that show him running ahead are not going to lull the GOP into overconfidence.

"The pollsters have been wrong all year long," Nixon said. "And so consequently, even though the polls show me ahead, all that I did when I heard the news about the Gallup Poll was to give orders to pour on the coal."

Nixon bid for votes in populous California Tuesday night with a statewide television show, one in a series of live voter interview programs in the major states.

He accused Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic rival, of wavering on issues. "Before we can have a debate between Nixon and Humphrey, Humphrey's got to settle his debate with himself," Nixon said.

"It's Humphrey vs. Humphrey. He's taken positions on twice as many issues because

Youth Is Held At Lisbon For Stabbing Of Teacher

A 16-year-old youth is in custody of county juvenile authorities at Lisbon after admitting he stabbed a 25-year-old East Liverpool schoolteacher who yielded to his pleas for a ride from the St. Clair Shopping Plaza to the downtown area early Tuesday night, police said.

Miss Frances Leon of 812 Lang St., stabbed in the abdomen with a paring knife at 7:07 p.m., while her car was halted at a traffic signal at W. 9th St. and Dresden Ave., identified the boy as her assailant.

Although he fled on foot and disappeared in the West End area, the boy was taken into custody at his home three and a half hours later as a result of an investigation made by officers who had only meager clues.

Although admitting the stabbing, the boy could give no reason, officers said. He was a patient for three months in 1967 at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center in Columbus.

Miss Leon, a Westgate School teacher, was treated and released at City Hospital. Officers said the knife made a puncture wound about a half - inch in depth in the right side of her abdomen.

Miss Leon told officers when she emerged from a drugstore at the plaza the youth approached and asked her for a ride downtown. She denied his request repeatedly, but he insisted that he must go to a doctor's office and that it was "important," so she finally acceded to his entreaties, she said.

While en route downtown, the teacher and the boy talked about school work and "everything appeared normal," she said. When she halted her car for the traffic light at W. 9th and Dresden, the boy began to place his hand

Prayer Halts Safecrackers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Prayer panicked a couple of safecrackers who attempted to rob the Fairlawn Baptist Church.

The church has a 24-hour-a-day "dial a prayer service" activated by a telephone call. Detective Chief W. P. Huston said two men were at work in the church trying to open the safe with a cutting torch when someone dialed a prayer and the tape machine automatically began to play.

Huston said the men dropped their lighted torch, lighter, goggles and tools and took off running.

In Report To Judge

Jury Asks More Deputies And Training For Police

LISBON — The Columbiana County grand jury's report recommends additional deputies for the sheriff's department and more training for all police officers.

Frank A. Dawson of East Liverpool, jury foreman, handed the report to Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court at noon Tuesday.

The panel of 15 men and women recommended that the sheriff's office "should be given a minimum of 12 additional deputies, believing that eight field men are not giving us the protection that we feel we are entitled to."

"Furthermore, we believe that training should be given to all police officers in some academy of learning that would give them greater knowledge in presenting testimony before a grand jury and in furthering the cause of justice in our county."

The report said all municipalities and the county government should provide funds to enable the officers to obtain such training.

Nixon

he's been on both sides of every issue."

Today, Nixon plans a stop in Fresno and another in Salt Lake City before heading eastward toward a Thursday night fund-raising dinner his organization hopes will raise $3 million for his campaign.

At a news conference in Anaheim, Nixon said that his often-repeated call for steps to balance the federal budget will require a complete reappraisal of Washington spending.

"That reappraisal, incidentally, is going on right now," he said. "Having in mind the fact that I will have the responsibility to look at these budget problems right after the election. . . ."

Nixon said the budget balance he seeks will require a reappraisal of U.S. commitments abroad in all areas, including the military.

Nixon's campaign ambassador overseas is Wiliam W. Scranton, former governor of Pennsylvania. That assignment, which began today and will end Oct. 9, produced speculation that the Pennsylvanian might be considered to become secretary of state if Nixon wins the election.

Scranton is to visit London, Paris, Bonn and Brussels. Nixon said he asked Scranton to find out what European leaders want done to rebuild the Western alliance, and how they view direct negotiation between leaders of the United States and the Soviet Union.

Nixon said he didn't assign Scranton to check European viewpoints on the Vietnam war.

"I would not ask Gov. Scranton, directly or indirectly, to make any statement to a European leader that could be misinterpreted and get back to the negotiators in Paris and weaken the hands of our negotiating team," Nixon said.

Nixon also said he had received reports that "there may be collusion developing" between Southern Democratic leaders and supporters of George C. Wallace, candidate of the American Independent party.

"I would certainly hope that Vice President Humphrey would repudiate any attempt on the part of Southern Democrats to join with Mr. Wallace in attempting to throw this race into the House of Representatives," Nixon said. The House would decide the election should any candidate fail to secure a majority in the electoral college.

His remarks were in a prepared speech.

The jury inspected the County Jail yesterday morning and found it "clean and sanitary." Jurors said they talked to several prisoners and found they are satisfied with the food and living conditions.

Franklin Copacia of Salem, the alternate juror, was seated yesterday morning when Emily Hughes of East Palestine was unable to report because of illness. The jury was in session one week.

require a complete reappraisal of Washington spending.

"That reappraisal, incidentally, is going on right now," he said. "Having in mind the fact that I will have the responsibility to look at these budget problems right after the election. . . ."

Nixon said the budget balance he seeks will require a reappraisal of U.S. commitments abroad in all areas, including the military.

Nixon's campaign ambassador overseas is Wiliam W. Scranton, former governor of Pennsylvania. That assignment, which began today and will end Oct. 9, produced speculation that the Pennsylvanian might be considered to become secretary of state if Nixon wins the election.

Scranton is to visit London, Paris, Bonn and Brussels. Nixon said he asked Scranton to find out what European leaders want done to rebuild the Western alliance, and how they view direct negotiation between leaders of the United States and the Soviet Union.

Nixon said he didn't assign Scranton to check European viewpoints on the Vietnam war.

"I would not ask Gov. Scranton, directly or indirectly, to make any statement to a European leader that could be misinterpreted and get back to the negotiators in Paris and weaken the hands of our negotiating team," Nixon said.

Nixon also said he had received reports that "there may be collusion developing" between Southern Democratic leaders and supporters of George C. Wallace, candidate of the American Independent party.

"I would certainly hope that Vice President Humphrey would repudiate any attempt on the part of Southern Democrats to join with Mr. Wallace in attempting to throw this race into the House of Representatives," Nixon said. The House would decide the election should any candidate fail to secure a majority in the electoral college.

His remarks were in a prepared speech.

The Voters And The Schools

Whether East Liverpool School District residents are opposed to continuing levies as a means of financing education or voted against the three proposed issues Tuesday for some other reasons remains to be evaluated.

Opposition to an unlimited time period for a levy seemed to be a dominant factor in the defeat of the two proposed renewals, for school district voters have over the years shown support for the financing which has been in effect.

But the need for the new 7-mill levy obviously was not brought home to the electorate. There seemed to be no coordinated campaign to sell the necessity for upgrading the schools to the state minimum standards and beyond.

Fortunately, the two levies offered for renewal will provide revenue for another year, and they will be submitted for approval again—hopefully with more successful results.

Meanwhile, the overwhelming rejection of a new levy for East Liverpool schools for the fourth consecutive time poses a real quandry for not just the school board and the school administrators, but for students who are in need of quality education. Public relations was termed a vital concern by candidates for the board in the last election, and apparently the cause for concern remains undiminished.

By The Light Of The Moon

Fanciers of illegal whisky, a tough-tongued breed with slight regard for their own internal health, have not yet volunteered publicly an evaluation of the moonshine produced at the Ohioville area farm until it suspended production Monday night.

High level sanitary conditions are not a prime requisite for unlicensed still operations, due largely to the clandestine nature of such industries and the demand for mobility of equipment. Leaves, dirt and an insect or two add to the incomparable flavor of the product, it is claimed by some.

Moonshine has but two major appealing attributes — it is for the rugged independent a means of avoiding state and federal taxes, and it can be obtained in the large economy size at bargain prices.

However, production of 'shine also offers even budget savings — residing in a government hostelry without cost on a lease of 5 and 10 years or more. And consumers, weary of their jobs and the burdens of normal living, have an excellent chance for early retirement as a result of blindness or some other disability or even total escape into the eternal beyond.

Time For Remedy

According to the calendar, autumn comes to Ohio Sept. 22, but for all practical purposes it is already here.

Soft days and lingering haze heralded its coming some time ago. Other telltale signs included the opening of school, beginning of the grid season, a sudden urge for fresh apple and an unmistakable chill in the air.

Flowers still in bloom seem to give forth with a final splash of color before they submit to the season.

Who could miss the striking change that is creeping across each forest rooftop.

Home and lawn maintenance chores are becoming more persistent in their urging of action before the favorable weather changes its mood.

But fall is not just a time for catching up on postponed work.

Autumn seems to inspire a yearning to slow down the pace a bit, look inwardly and think deeply.

Autumn is a time of saying farewell to summer and hello to a beautiful season that will be whatever you wish to make of it.

A Happening In Scotland

A happening scheduled next month in Glasgow, Scotland, will bear watching.

A mission, described by one of its architects as "unique," will get under way there — its goal: to do something constructive about the problem of violence in Britain's toughest gangland city.

For six weeks, 50 Roman Catholic priest commandos and 250 local clergy from throughout Britain will attempt to bring young people between the ages of 15 and 21 off the streets and into their church youth clubs.

THE COMMANDO PRIESTS, specialists in this work, also will work with the present members of the youth organizations who will serve as "apostles" in the effort to add members to their youth groups.

For they are saying in Glasgow the same thing that is being said and written about here in the United States:

"Law-abiding citizens are afraid to walk in certain streets, old people are afraid to open their doors after dark, stab wounds are dealt with by the law of the vendetta and not by that of the courts, witnesses are intimidated."

The specific aim of the churchmen is not to win converts but to "find and influence youngsters on the fringe of lawlessness or showing antisocial tedencies."

IT WILL BE most interesting to observe the degree of success or failure achieved by the mission. For many of the youth who are "going down the slippery slope" feel the church today is irrelevant to the mainstream of life.

One fact they can hardly overlook, however, is that the missioners are not trying to apprehend, them, jail them or punish them but are motivated out of social concern and the sincere desire to help them find a better way of life.

Point To Remember

A bashful bird, which evaded professional and amateur bird watchers for more than a century, has come out of hiding.

The spiny babbler of the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal apparently has overcome its shyness and now may be seen high on mountainsides from the western border of the country to the Katmundu Valley.

Dr. S. Dillon Ripley, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, describes the spiny babbler as a bird the size of an American robin. Its throat and upper breast are white and the rest of its feathers are brown. Its forehead and crown have stiff wiry shafts.

The babbler was lost to science for 106 years but, according to a member of Dr. Ripley's technical staff, it never was as rare as ornithologists thought.

Said the assistant, "There just weren't enough people looking for it in the right places."

That might be a good point for people involved in other endeavors to remember.

From Lowly Charcoal

Charcoal, which became an American family byword with the advent and quickly following popularity of the backyard charcoal burner, may soon play a new and important role in the era of food production and consumption.

Studies conducted at Michigan State University indicate that activated charcoal may become a regular item in the diet of the nation's cattle.

Tests show the charcoal prevents pesticide residues from contaminating the animals' milk and meat. In fact, to paraphrase an old adage, it is believed "a pound or two of charcoal a day will keep contamination away."

THE MICHIGAN STUDIES even indicate that an effective way to treat humans who have accidentally ingested pesticide poisons may be to have them eat charcoal.

It is suggested that, by feeding activated charcoal to farm animals, the public could be protected from minute traces of pesticides that might contaminate animal foodstuffs, and at the same time protect farmers from excessive financial loss incurred when their herds accidentally are contaminated.

The activated charcoal, a highly effective absorbing agent, is prepared by subjecting charcoal to a high heat treatment to increase the porosity of its surface. Thus, when it is eaten by farm animals, it greatly increases the rate at which pesticides are eliminated from their systems.

It has been estimated that if federal and state laws which forbid the presence of pesticide residues in milk sold were enforced strictly, "milk sales kept off the market each year would amount to millions of dollars."

ANOTHER BIG SAVINGS would occur if regular dosages of charcoal could prevent the severe contamination of dairy herds which make their milk unusable for up to a year, at a cost to the farmers of millions of dollars annually.

We all stand to benefit again from basic scientific research—this time from work with the onetime "useless" charcoal.

The Tell-Tale Signs

September again focuses attention on tropical storms because it is traditionally the worst month of the hurricane season which runs from June 15 to Nov. 15.

Abby, the season's first storm offering, has been the only one to cause trouble so far. It bounced off Cuba in June then killed seven persons in cutting through Florida and Georgia.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami is using research from U. S. statellites to learn more about the still unpredictable storms. However, with the heavy toll of lives and property hurricanes exact yearly, it seems a control method could be found.

Storms including hurricanes, and seismic sea waves around the world claim about 500 to 600 lives a year and cause between $11 and $15 billion damage.

Such a loss of lives and property ought to spur research in search for a remedy.

If enough effort were directed toward finding a solution, then predictions of a busy hurricane season wouldn't strike fear into the hearts of U. S. coastal residents.

This 'n That

Water dissolves almost everything with which it comes in contact, so that strictly pure water is never found. Rain water is traditionally the purest form of water, but even that has absorbed air and ammonia.

Always Room For One More

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Joins Fortas Fight

NEW YORK — All through his travail, Justice Abe Fortas, the capital's finest amateur violinist, has fiddled quietly in his vacation retreat while his senatorial critics have burned. He's been calm. But some of his most powerful supporters are readying an angry blast at those opposing his confirmation as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Victor Riesel

Labor's high command, now gathered in this city, will charge that Mr. Fortas is today's Dreyfuss, and is the victim of senatorial anti-Semitism!

It will be said bluntly, unequivocally and clearly aimed at the two or three Senators blocking President Johnson's nomination.

Final draft of such a statement already is on George Meany's desk. There is no doubt that it reflects the sentiment of the 29-member AFL-CIO national Executive Council.

Sometime during labor's high command conference here, it will be pointed out that never has a prospective chief justice been subjected to such senatorial grilling. To this will be added the fact that Abe Fortas is the first man of Jewish faith to be named for this judicial post.

CERTAINLY SUCH A charge of anti-Semitism will broaden the dimensions of the senatorial conflict. When it does, the labor leaders, tough infighters all, will be ready with the record.

They will compare, if necessary, the record of Justice Fortas, who was an editor of the Yale Law Review and one of the nation's most accomplished classical musicians, with others on the high bench. At least one justice admitted having once been a member of an old Ku Klux Klan klavern.

These labor leaders are aware that Mr. Fortas has advised President Johnson from time to time. But this has been a behind-the-scenes standard operating practice for generations.

In recent years Mr. Johnson has been advised on foreign policy and labor by several justices.

Others on the high bench have beeen telephoned during city burnings and brutal onslaughts by networks of criminal syndicates.

Certainly this has been true during every administration since Franklin D. Roosevelt's days.

WHY THEN, ASK THE labor leaders, is such intense heat being poured on Justice Fortas? Labor's reply is: anti-Semitism.

The labor men will add that the criticism is dovetailed with efforts to lash at President Johnson. These union offficials are laconic men. They roll it out in one small verbal ball of wax:

Lyndon Johnson is the first President to name Negro to the high court; the first to appoint a Negro to the cabinet, the first Chief Executive to designate a Negro as U.S. Solicitor General; the first man in the White House to choose a Negro mayor of Washington, D.C. And Mr. Johnson is the first President to select a Jewish jurist for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Obviously these portly men of labor, now at the Hotel Commodore here, are aware of the political dynamite in their charge of anti-Semitism. They know full well the flash fire they're lighting. They know this may become the most volatile issue of the presidential campaign. And they're not certain of the reaction. They themselves may be charged with bigotry by Senators Strom Thurmond and Robert Griffin.

THESE LEADERS of the fight against Justice Fortas have not, in any fashion, reflected on the nominee's religion. Their friends say that any charge of anti-Semitism would simply be more of the kind of White House pressure which they say they now are battling.

But this reaction, anticipated by Mr. Meany and his colleagues, won't deter them from raising the issue.

"The Executive Council will come out flat-footed all the way for Abe Fortas," said a national labor official. George Meany will charge that anti-Semitism is playing a big role in what is happening on the Hill . . ."

To all this will be linked an attack on Senator Griffin, co-author of the union-regulating Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959, a law long and bitterly resented by the American labor movement.

And through it all, Justice Fortas rides quietly in his 1953 Rolls Royce and keeps his calm amidst violin serenades.

But in a few days the uproar will drown out those string solos.

War Issue

A strange spectacle in American political history is being witnessed today in the presidential campaign.

Although the President heads a Democratic administration, and the platform adopted by the Democratic party at the recent convention supports his policies in Vietnam, a demand is being made by both the Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees to "end the war" by taking what are called "calculated risks."

The vice presidential candidate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, has defined the differences between himself and the administration by arguing that, while everybody is agreed that the war "must be settled not by military force but by negotiated settlement," the United States must "take some risk to end the war."

HE DECLARED that it is on this point he begins to "part company" with the administration on Vietnam policy. He sought to justify his attitude by claiming that the administration has already changed its position as a result of the dissent which has been expressed in America.

Also, Mr. Humphrey has been saying that he could have accepted the minority proposal for the Democratic platform calling for an "unconditional" halt to the bombing of North Vietnam.

Apparently in an effort to deal with such varying comments, President Johnson, in a speech before the American Legion convention at New Orleans Tuesday, made the following declaration:

"We are today exacting a very substantial price from the enemy. It requires patience of all of us. But we are limiting his capacity to bring weight against our forces and our allies. There is not the slightest doubt that if we should stop the bombing in the panhandle, the military capacity of the enemy to hurt our forces would greatly increase, and our casualties would skyrocket.

"Just a few days ago, I went to the field with a cable and asked the commander of our troops in South Vietnam, one of the ablest commanders ever to wear a uniform, Gen. Abrams, to give me his viewpoint on what would happen if I should order him to carry out the suggestion that had been made by some of our enemies abroad and some of our friends at home to stop the bombing.

"His reply was simply this: 'If you should require me to stop the bombing of North Vietnam, you would permit the enemy to increase his capability severalfold in 10 days, and if he did, I would be forced to withdraw our men from that area because they could no longer stand their ground.'

"I am not going to issue any order like that.

"Gen. Abrams nor a single field commander we have has made that recomendation to me. I am not a prophet or a speculator, but I do prophesy that some of these men who recommend it now would not do so if they were there on the DMZ, and could see there what our men face every day and face every night.

"Therefore, the commander in chief has insisted that the bombing will not stop until we are confident that it will not lead to an increase in American casualties."

It has never happened before that, in the middle of a war — in which more than half a million American troops are engaged — the President, as commander-in-chief, has been told by the candidate of his own party campaigning for the presidency just how he should conduct the nation's military operations.

There continues to be emphasis placed by the campaigners on the importance of bringing the troops back "early," though military men say there is no sign that the war can be ended in a few weeks or even months.

THE NORTH VIETNAMESE are making absolutely no concessions at the Paris conference. They are being encouraged by the news dispatches from the United States to believe that the President's own party is not supporting him and that the Democratic nominees for the presidency and vice presidency, despite their protestations to the contrary, will be inclined to favor almost any step to end the war.

Just what all this is doing to the morale of American troops abroad can only be guessed at in this country. But certainly it is unprecedented for American soldiers to be fighting a war while the enemy is being given the impression that a substantial segment of the American people — including persons seeking the nation's highest office — want peace at any price.

ANOTHER BIG SAVINGS would occur if regular dosages of charcoal could prevent the severe contamination of dairy herds which make their milk unusable for up to a year, at a cost to the farmers of millions of dollars annually.

We all stand to benefit again from basic scientific research—this time from work with the onetime "useless" charcoal.

The Tell-Tale Signs

September again focuses attention on tropical storms because it is traditionally the worst month of the hurricane season which runs from June 15 to Nov. 15.

Abby, the season's first storm offering, has been the only one to cause trouble so far. It bounced off Cuba in June then killed seven persons in cutting through Florida and Georgia.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami is using research from U. S. statellites to learn more about the still unpredictable storms. However, with the heavy toll of lives and property hurricanes exact yearly, it seems a control method could be found.

Storms including hurricanes, and seismic sea waves around the world claim about 500 to 600 lives a year and cause between $11 and $15 billion damage.

Such a loss of lives and property ought to spur research in search for a remedy.

If enough effort were directed toward finding a solution, then predictions of a busy hurricane season wouldn't strike fear into the hearts of U. S. coastal residents.

This 'n That

Water dissolves almost everything with which it comes in contact, so that strictly pure water is never found. Rain water is traditionally the purest form of water, but even that has absorbed air and ammonia.

Always Room For One More

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Joins Fortas Fight

NEW YORK — All through his travail, Justice Abe Fortas, the capital's finest amateur violinist, has fiddled quietly in his vacation retreat while his senatorial critics have burned. He's been calm. But some of his most powerful supporters are readying an angry blast at those opposing his confirmation as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Victor Riesel

Labor's high command, now gathered in this city, will charge that Mr. Fortas is today's Dreyfuss, and is the victim of senatorial anti-Semitism!

It will be said bluntly, unequivocally and clearly aimed at the two or three Senators blocking President Johnson's nomination.

Final draft of such a statement already is on George Meany's desk. There is no doubt that it reflects the sentiment of the 29-member AFL-CIO national Executive Council.

Sometime during labor's high command conference here, it will be pointed out that never has a prospective chief justice been subjected to such senatorial grilling. To this will be added the fact that Abe Fortas is the first man of Jewish faith to be named for this judicial post.

CERTAINLY SUCH A charge of anti-Semitism will broaden the dimensions of the senatorial conflict. When it does, the labor leaders, tough infighters all, will be ready with the record.

They will compare, if necessary, the record of Justice Fortas, who was an editor of the Yale Law Review and one of the nation's most accomplished classical musicians, with others on the high bench. At least one justice admitted having once been a member of an old Ku Klux Klan klavern.

These labor leaders are aware that Mr. Fortas has advised President Johnson from time to time. But this has been a behind-the-scenes standard operating practice for generations.

In recent years Mr. Johnson has been advised on foreign policy and labor by several justices.

Others on the high bench have beeen telephoned during city burnings and brutal onslaughts by networks of criminal syndicates.

Certainly this has been true during every administration since Franklin D. Roosevelt's days.

WHY THEN, ASK THE labor leaders, is such intense heat being poured on Justice Fortas? Labor's reply is: anti-Semitism.

The labor men will add that the criticism is dovetailed with efforts to lash at President Johnson. These union offficials are laconic men. They roll it out in one small verbal ball of wax:

Lyndon Johnson is the first President to name Negro to the high court; the first to appoint a Negro to the cabinet, the first Chief Executive to designate a Negro as U.S. Solicitor General; the first man in the White House to choose a Negro mayor of Washington, D.C. And Mr. Johnson is the first President to select a Jewish jurist for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Obviously these portly men of labor, now at the Hotel Commodore here, are aware of the political dynamite in their charge of anti-Semitism. They know full well the flash fire they're lighting. They know this may become the most volatile issue of the presidential campaign. And they're not certain of the reaction. They themselves may be charged with bigotry by Senators Strom Thurmond and Robert Griffin.

THESE LEADERS of the fight against Justice Fortas have not, in any fashion, reflected on the nominee's religion. Their friends say that any charge of anti-Semitism would simply be more of the kind of White House pressure which they say they now are battling.

But this reaction, anticipated by Mr. Meany and his colleagues, won't deter them from raising the issue.

"The Executive Council will come out flat-footed all the way for Abe Fortas," said a national labor official. George Meany will charge that anti-Semitism is playing a big role in what is happening on the Hill . . ."

To all this will be linked an attack on Senator Griffin, co-author of the union-regulating Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959, a law long and bitterly resented by the American labor movement.

And through it all, Justice Fortas rides quietly in his 1953 Rolls Royce and keeps his calm amidst violin serenades.

But in a few days the uproar will drown out those string solos.

RAYMOND MOLEY

War Issue

A strange spectacle in American political history is being witnessed today in the presidential campaign.

Although the President heads a Democratic administration, and the platform adopted by the Democratic party at the recent convention supports his policies in Vietnam, a demand is being made by both the Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees to "end the war" by taking what are called "calculated risks."

The vice presidential candidate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, has defined the differences between himself and the administration by arguing that, while everybody is agreed that the war "must be settled not by military force but by negotiated settlement," the United States must "take some risk to end the war."

HE DECLARED that it is on this point he begins to "part company" with the administration on Vietnam policy. He sought to justify his attitude by claiming that the administration has already changed its position as a result of the dissent which has been expressed in America.

Also, Mr. Humphrey has been saying that he could have accepted the minority proposal for the Democratic platform calling for an "unconditional" halt to the bombing of North Vietnam.

Apparently in an effort to deal with such varying comments, President Johnson, in a speech before the American Legion convention at New Orleans Tuesday, made the following declaration:

"We are today exacting a very substantial price from the enemy. It requires patience of all of us. But we are limiting his capacity to bring weight against our forces and our allies. There is not the slightest doubt that if we should stop the bombing in the panhandle, the military capacity of the enemy to hurt our forces would greatly increase, and our casualties would skyrocket.

"Just a few days ago, I went to the field with a cable and asked the commander of our troops in South Vietnam, one of the ablest commanders ever to wear a uniform, Gen. Abrams, to give me his viewpoint on what would happen if I should order him to carry out the suggestion that had been made by some of our enemies abroad and some of our friends at home to stop the bombing.

"His reply was simply this: 'If you should require me to stop the bombing of North Vietnam, you would permit the enemy to increase his capability severalfold in 10 days, and if he did, I would be forced to withdraw our men from that area because they could no longer stand their ground.'

"I am not going to issue any order like that.

"Gen. Abrams nor a single field commander we have has made that recomendation to me. I am not a prophet or a speculator, but I do prophesy that some of these men who recommend it now would not do so if they were there on the DMZ, and could see there what our men face every day and face every night.

"Therefore, the commander in chief has insisted that the bombing will not stop until we are confident that it will not lead to an increase in American casualties."

It has never happened before that, in the middle of a war — in which more than half a million American troops are engaged — the President, as commander-in-chief, has been told by the candidate of his own party campaigning for the presidency just how he should conduct the nation's military operations.

There continues to be emphasis placed by the campaigners on the importance of bringing the troops back "early," though military men say there is no sign that the war can be ended in a few weeks or even months.

THE NORTH VIETNAMESE are making absolutely no concessions at the Paris conference. They are being encouraged by the news dispatches from the United States to believe that the President's own party is not supporting him and that the Democratic nominees for the presidency and vice presidency, despite their protestations to the contrary, will be inclined to favor almost any step to end the war.

Just what all this is doing to the morale of American troops abroad can only be guessed at in this country. But certainly it is unprecedented for American soldiers to be fighting a war while the enemy is being given the impression that a substantial segment of the American people — including persons seeking the nation's highest office — want peace at any price.

Leasing Of Land Set In Wellsville

Wellsville Council, meeting Tuesday night, authorized the Board of Control to lease to the highest bidder a tract of land in the community's east end.

Involved is a rectangular tract fronting 85 feet on Fulton St. and extending south to the floodwall adjacent to land of the Stevenson Co.

The Ace Trucking Co. has expressed interest in the site for a warehouse.

THE ORDINANCE calling for the lease was passed under suspension of rules last night — with Councilmen Russell Keefer, Paul Todd, Glen Mathess, Robert Taggart, J. Brad Phillips and Jack Call voting for the proposal. Councilman Nunzio Lombardozi was absent.

Under the action, the city reserves the right of access to the floodwall and "across and above the described premises."

The lease would be for a period of 10 years, with the lessee having the option to renew for an additional period of 10 years or less under the following terms: Equal monthly payments at the beginning of each month and continuing throughout the term of the lease.

IN OTHER business, copies of recodified ordinances now under consideration were referred to the ordinance and rules committee for further study.

The recodification, sanctioned in July 1966, will cost approximately $1,800.

The typed copies of the legislation were prepared by Atty. William Bush, city solicitor, and Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, former city solicitor. They were presented by Phillips, chairman of the rules and ordinance committee, and are to be checked by the committee and other Councilmen to determine which are to be retained and which are to be deleted.

At the beginning of the meeting, Fire Chief Robert Lewis offered to answer any questions concerning the 2-mill fire levy that will face voters Nov. 5. He also asked Council members to support the levy.

Questions raised included: Type of truck to be purchased if the levy passes, age of present truck, insurance and the time element before its arrival.

LEWIS said the new truck would not necessarily be of the same type as the Demonstrator model, costing $32,000, which was at the station while work was being done on pumping equipment. He said the present truck, a Seagrave, purchased in February 1951, would not bring much if sold. He added, in his opinion, it would be sound business to retain the truck as a spare.

He said when the Seagrave broke down, a pumper truck which the volunteer fire department owns was used. In the last eight years there has been ignition, fuel pump, bearing, tank, grease retaining and transmission trouble, he said. The mileage on the fire engine is 2,100 miles and on the pumping engine 25,000.

As to fire underwriters insurance, Lewis explained that fire department equipment and age of pumping apparatus is only one of the elements considered for classification of the city.

If the levy passes, the new fire truck cannot be obtained in less than a year from the day the contract is signed, Lewis continued, because two or three months involved in drawing up specifications.

Lewis said the cost of a new fire truck "seems enormous," but over a period of 20 years it is not any more than any other automobile.

When asked as to what major fires in the past year were due, Lewis pointed to lapse of time involved in their discovery.

In concluding his remarks, Lewis urged councilmen to support the levy, reminding them they are the leaders of the community. "Do we need fire protection in Wellsville — poor, mediocre or best? You should take a stand".

A COMMUNICATION containing a resolution passed by Chester council and requesting endorsement of a long - range program for extension of U.S. Route 30 and a new bridge to replace the present Chester bridge was turned over to the street and light committee for further study.

In committee reports, Phillips declared that the city cannot vacate Kenmore St. until it gets permission from at least 15 property owners. Ken Long, who has acquired property on Aten Ave., previously had asked vacation of the unopened street.

In his report as to the city retaining its fill land, Todd said he had made numerous calls to the County Health Department but had received no return call. He learned that a note had been left on the desk of Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, Sept. 5 stating that the dump would be inspected and probably would be licensed. The city is awaiting the county's stand before obtaining another contract for covering of the refuse.

A communication from the Ohio Valley Gas Co. accepting the terms and conditions in an ordinance passed Aug. 20 by the Council was placed on file. In accordance with a request of the solicitor for Council to specify what it wants in the amendment to the parking meter legislation, the ordinance committee will draw up an outline.

Andrew Lynn, clerk, asked Council to consider buying a copy machine. His request was referred to the finance committee. The Rev. Jack Hampton, pastor of the Central United Methodist Church, gave the invocation. Wayne Rose presided.

operate at the present time with the amount of money the people have given us. If we don't have enough to meet state minimum requirements, we will have to make different arrangements. There is no doubt but that we will have to ask for the money again."

Supt. Blair said, "We cannot possibly meet state minimum standards with the present budget. We will definitely continue with the additions we were forced to add to meet 1968 standards."

Added to the program for the 1968-69 school year to meet these state standards was a guidance instructor, a librarian at East Junior, and the driver education program which was made mandatory by state law, and the vocational program. Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini said, "However, we are very short in the audio-visual and instructional material departments and in required number of library volumes. We also do not meet the requirements for guidance in the junior high buildings.

"I HAVE no opinion as to why the levies failed," Supt. Blair said. "Many persons worked as diligently as they could."

Both Brown and Supt. Blair felt the continuing factor of the levies might have had some influence, but Brown pointed out that this was groundless, because the voters could at any time, even the following year, call for a referendum to ask that the levies be repealed.

Brown said there had been a successful referendum in East Liverpool on the city income tax, although Council approved it again.

"We cannot do this with a school levy," Brown said. "We have to ask for it." He added, "If we set it for five years, it is on for five years and cannot be repealed, so the people are actually ahead when it is put on a continuing manner."

Assistant Supt. Pelini said, "I feel guilty personally about the defeat. I feel I have let down the youth of the community. It was a real disappointment, but I guess anytime something is defeated, it is a disappointment."

Supt. Blair said he will be contacting the board of education, and together the board and the administration, will try to find an answer to the question, "Where do we go from here?"

a filibuster. Under the rules, a two-thirds majority of senators voting is required to put debate-limiting rule into effect.

Mansfield said if the first attempt to limit debate fails, the size of the vote will determine whether he will try a second time to end the discussion.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, although supporting confirmation, has predicted there will be at least 50 votes against cloture, or far more than needed to keep a filibuster going.

He indicated in talking with newsmen Tuesday that he would not press his GOP collagues to vote for cloture.

Warren has retired contingent on confirmation of a successor.

Johnson named another old friend, Federal Judge Homer Thornberry of Texas, to fill the vacancy that would be created by Fortas's elevation from associate justice to chief justice.

The committee, however, has shelved the Thornberry nomination until the Senate either confirms or rejects Fortas.

The opposition has accused Johnson of cronyism in naming old friends to the court and also contends he has no right in the waning days of his administration to make such important and lasting appointments.

Oppoents also have claimed that Fortas violated the concept of separation of powers by advising Johnson while sitting on the court and that he has contributed to an increase in pornography by some of the rulings he has participated in.

nuclear nonproliferation treaty, but would like a vote delayed because action now might imply approval of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

"Mr. Nixon," he said, "I ask you to be a statesman and stop playing with the lives of humanity."

Then, after quoting the Republican candidate as saying he would double criminal convictions while Humphrey would double the antipoverty program, the vice president asserted:

"Let Mr. Nixon build his penitentiaries. I want to build neighborhoods and homes for Americans."

All in all, Humphrey used his strongest language yet in public appearances to deride his opponent.

For Humphrey, the two-city visit to New York state apparently provided a big psychological boost. His crowds were bigger and generally more enthusiastic than during the earlier days of his campaign.

Of course, Humphrey ran into anti-Vietnam war demonstrators.

He silenced one group at Canisius College in Buffalo by urging them to voice their dissent "in a way that commands respect, because then and only then can you really influence public opinion, then and only then can you even change things."

Before the same college audience, Humphrey made another effort to depict himself as a moderate on the Vietnam war.

Declaring that "I've never been very much interested in wars," Humphrey promised that if elected, he would do anything necessary to achieve an honorable peace. And he reminded his audience that he could exercise no control in this area before Jan. 20, adding:

"We only have one president at a time—and that's enough."

That he spoke in jest about the President seemed evident when he later told a Democratic luncheon that the record of the Johnson administration "has been nothing short of remarkable."

Johnston placed Keister in his auto, stopped at the police station to report the incident and then took the injured man to the hospital.

While headed for the Chester Bridge, the hit-skip auto collided with a 1960 two-door sedan driven by Darrell N. Leak, 26, of 1723 Cleveland Ave., officers said. Leak told officers he was driving off the bridge approach when the eastbound vehicle hit his auto, damaging the left front fender, the left rear side and the rear bumper. His description of the hit-skip car matched the details given by Keister.

A few minutes before the traffic incident, police were called to the Inn Town Motel on E. 3rd St. at Broadway to investigate a fight, which was over when officers arrived. They talked with Keister and Johnston, who then left.

IRS Arrests Nine People At Races

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP)— Nine persons were arrested by Internal Revenue Service agents Tuesday night in a raid on Shenandoah Downs thoroughbred race course.

An IRS spokesman in Baltimore, Md., Richard Edelen, said the raid was inspired by a four-month investigation by the IRS.

Edelen said the nine, including three parimutuel ticket cashiers, a security policeman and five patrons of the track, were charged with being "10 per centers", which involves the preparation of false tax returns.

Federal statutes require that winners of more than $600 fill out proper income tax forms. The IRS spokesman said some of the individuals arrested had falsely identified themselves as winners, for a 10 per cent share, and thus had shielded the identity of the actual holders of the winning tickets.

Free on their own recognizance after an appearance before U.S. Commissioner Henry W. Morrow of West Virginia are:

Thomas L. Livengood of Baltimore; Frank Benson and James Davis of Washington, D.C.; Joseph Fairrie of Hagerstown, Md.; Ray Hammer of Elkton, W. Va.; Harry Dickman of Miami Beach, Fla., William Stanley of Charleston, W. Va., Allen Russell of Kerneysville, W. Va. and William Rush of Shepherdstown, W. Va.

Each faces a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Stabbing

underneath his shirt, which was worn loosely outside the waistband of his trousers. Fearing an overt act, Miss Leon told the boy to get out of the car, as she intended to turn left onto Grant St.

It was then that the youth stabbed her, officers said.

Miss Leon screamed, slammed on the brakes of the auto and leaped out. The youth ran west on W. 9th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hargreaves of 846 Lisbon St., who were in a passing car, heard Miss Leon scream and saw blood on her clothing. They took her to the hospital. Emergency room attendants there notified police of the incident.

Wayne Boley, 18, of 800 Dresden Ave., who also witnessed part of the incident, pursued the fleeing youth, but lost him in the vicinity of Webber Way.

Miss Leon and Boley gave officers a description of the assailant, but it was his conversation earlier with the teacher that led to his arrest.

The boy had mentioned an incident in which he and two others had been involved in school. Officers checked with a teacher, who recalled the names of the three boys who had been involved. Police started a systematic check to find if one of the three boys named had done the stabbing.

The first youth on whom they checked proved to be the suspect.

The boy was taken into custody at 10:30 at his home on Bradshaw Ave. Officers said he gave a statement admitting the stabbing about a half - hour after he was taken into custody.

The investigating officers included Lt. Robert B. Pyle, Det. William A. Devon and Patrolman Charles Coen.

Devon said the identification of the suspect was confirmed by the fact Miss Leon gave officers an exact description of his clothing.

Portuguese Still In Coma

LISBON (AP) — Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar rallied slightly during the night, though still in a coma and partially paralyzed, and an American specialist flew today to join the fight for his life.

A communique shortly before midnight Tuesday said the condition of the 79-year-old dictator's heart and nervous system was improving. He suffered a stroke Monday as he was recuperating from head surgery on Sept. 7.

Dr. Bissaia Barreto, a longtime friend of Salazar, said on leaving Red Cross Hospital today: "We can think of recuperation again."

But the premier was understood to be still in grave danger.

Dr. Houston Merritt of New York was summoned after U.S. Ambassador William Tapley Bennett offered aid. Merritt is from the neurological institute of the Columbia University Medical Center.

President Americo Thomaz met for two hours Tuesday with the Council of State, made up of 15 prominent oficials and citizens whose advice he must seek before naming a new premier.

A COMMUNICATION containing a resolution passed by Chester council and requesting endorsement of a long - range program for extension of U.S. Route 30 and a new bridge to replace the present Chester bridge was turned over to the street and light committee for further study.

In committee reports, Phillips declared that the city cannot vacate Kenmore St. until it gets permission from at least 15 property owners. Ken Long, who has acquired property on Aten Ave., previously had asked vacation of the unopened street.

In his report as to the city retaining its fill land, Todd said he had made numerous calls to the County Health Department but had received no return call. He learned that a note had been left on the desk of Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, Sept. 5 stating that the dump would be inspected and probably would be licensed. The city is awaiting the county's stand before obtaining another contract for covering of the refuse.

A communication from the Ohio Valley Gas Co. accepting the terms and conditions in an ordinance passed Aug. 20 by the Council was placed on file. In accordance with a request of the solicitor for Council to specify what it wants in the amendment to the parking meter legislation, the ordinance committee will draw up an outline.

Andrew Lynn, clerk, asked Council to consider buying a copy machine. His request was referred to the finance committee. The Rev. Jack Hampton, pastor of the Central United Methodist Church, gave the invocation. Wayne Rose presided.

operate at the present time with the amount of money the people have given us. If we don't have enough to meet state minimum requirements, we will have to make different arrangements. There is no doubt but that we will have to ask for the money again."

Supt. Blair said, "We cannot possibly meet state minimum standards with the present budget. We will definitely continue with the additions we were forced to add to meet 1968 standards."

Added to the program for the 1968-69 school year to meet these state standards was a guidance instructor, a librarian at East Junior, and the driver education program which was made mandatory by state law, and the vocational program. Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini said, "However, we are very short in the audio-visual and instructional material departments and in required number of library volumes. We also do not meet the requirements for guidance in the junior high buildings.

"I HAVE no opinion as to why the levies failed," Supt. Blair said. "Many persons worked as diligently as they could."

Both Brown and Supt. Blair felt the continuing factor of the levies might have had some influence, but Brown pointed out that this was groundless, because the voters could at any time, even the following year, call for a referendum to ask that the levies be repealed.

Brown said there had been a successful referendum in East Liverpool on the city income tax, although Council approved it again.

"We cannot do this with a school levy," Brown said. "We have to ask for it." He added, "If we set it for five years, it is on for five years and cannot be repealed, so the people are actually ahead when it is put on a continuing manner."

Assistant Supt. Pelini said, "I feel guilty personally about the defeat. I feel I have let down the youth of the community. It was a real disappointment, but I guess anytime something is defeated, it is a disappointment."

Supt. Blair said he will be contacting the board of education, and together the board and the administration, will try to find an answer to the question, "Where do we go from here?"

Fortas

a filibuster. Under the rules, a two-thirds majority of senators voting is required to put debate-limiting rule into effect.

Mansfield said if the first attempt to limit debate fails, the size of the vote will determine whether he will try a second time to end the discussion.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, although supporting confirmation, has predicted there will be at least 50 votes against cloture, or far more than needed to keep a filibuster going.

He indicated in talking with newsmen Tuesday that he would not press his GOP collagues to vote for cloture.

Warren has retired contingent on confirmation of a successor.

Johnson named another old friend, Federal Judge Homer Thornberry of Texas, to fill the vacancy that would be created by Fortas's elevation from associate justice to chief justice.

The committee, however, has shelved the Thornberry nomination until the Senate either confirms or rejects Fortas.

The opposition has accused Johnson of cronyism in naming old friends to the court and also contends he has no right in the waning days of his administration to make such important and lasting appointments.

Oppoents also have claimed that Fortas violated the concept of separation of powers by advising Johnson while sitting on the court and that he has contributed to an increase in pornography by some of the rulings he has participated in.

nuclear nonproliferation treaty, but would like a vote delayed because action now might imply approval of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

"Mr. Nixon," he said, "I ask you to be a statesman and stop playing with the lives of humanity."

Then, after quoting the Republican candidate as saying he would double criminal convictions while Humphrey would double the antipoverty program, the vice president asserted:

"Let Mr. Nixon build his penitentiaries. I want to build neighborhoods and homes for Americans."

All in all, Humphrey used his strongest language yet in public appearances to deride his opponent.

For Humphrey, the two-city visit to New York state apparently provided a big psychological boost. His crowds were bigger and generally more enthusiastic than during the earlier days of his campaign.

Of course, Humphrey ran into anti-Vietnam war demonstrators.

He silenced one group at Canisius College in Buffalo by urging them to voice their dissent "in a way that commands respect, because then and only then can you really influence public opinion, then and only then can you even change things."

Before the same college audience, Humphrey made another effort to depict himself as a moderate on the Vietnam war.

Declaring that "I've never been very much interested in wars," Humphrey promised that if elected, he would do anything necessary to achieve an honorable peace. And he reminded his audience that he could exercise no control in this area before Jan. 20, adding:

"We only have one president at a time—and that's enough."

That he spoke in jest about the President seemed evident when he later told a Democratic luncheon that the record of the Johnson administration "has been nothing short of remarkable."

Hit-Skip

Ave. when the auto struck him nearby parking lot at The Review.

Johnston placed Keister in his auto, stopped at the police station to report the incident and then took the injured man to the hospital.

While headed for the Chester Bridge, the hit-skip auto collided with a 1960 two-door sedan driven by Darrell N. Leak, 26, of 1723 Cleveland Ave., officers said. Leak told officers he was driving off the bridge approach when the eastbound vehicle hit his auto, damaging the left front fender, the left rear side and the rear bumper. His description of the hit-skip car matched the details given by Keister.

A few minutes before the traffic incident, police were called to the Inn Town Motel on E. 3rd St. at Broadway to investigate a fight, which was over when officers arrived. They talked with Keister and Johnston, who then left.

grams will begin at 10 a.m., Hiscox said. Of interest to visitors will be an antique flea market, antique displays, displays of merchandise and apples, sidewalk sales, wagon tours, children's rides, exhibits, demonstrations, contests, guided tours out of town and other entertainment.

Scheduled Friday night are a pet parade, barbershop quartet and the Senior Citizens kitchen band. The Saturday night features will be a home talent show, a rock and roll musical quartet and an apple auction. Arrangements are being made to have a blood relative of John Chapman (Johnny Appleseed) give a short talk.

Food stands and meals will be served by various organizations. The Association will sell souvenirs and apple jewelry.

Demonstrations will include the making of applebutter over an open fire, and a small cider press operated by a pony on a treadmill. Covered wagons pulled by horses will offer rides to visitors. Also planned are tours of covered bridges, Morgan's monument, the shortest railroad and historical points in and near Lisbon.

Hiscox said there will be a hog calling contest at 4 p.m. Friday and a rooster crowing contest at 3 Saturday.

Hunter's Newstand will have its annual art show. The Lisbon Historical Society will keep the Old Stone House, its museum, open afternoons and evenings Friday and Saturday. A featured display will be a Bible printed in 1818 and inscribed "John Chapman—His Book."

IRS Arrests Nine People At Races

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Nine persons were arrested by Internal Revenue Service agents Tuesday night in a raid on Shenandoah Downs thoroughbred race course.

An IRS spokesman in Baltimore, Md., Richard Edelen, said the raid was inspired by a four-month investigation by the IRS.

Edelen said the nine, including three parimutuel ticket cashiers, a security policeman and five patrons of the track, were charged with being "10 per centers", which involves the preparation of false tax returns.

Federal statutes require that winners of more than $600 fill out proper income tax forms. The IRS spokesman said some of the individuals arrested had falsely identified themselves as winners, for a 10 per cent share, and thus had shielded the identity of the actual holders of the winning tickets.

Free on their own recognizance after an appearance before U.S. Commissioner Henry W. Morrow of West Virginia are:

Thomas L. Livengood of Baltimore; Frank Benson and James Davis of Washington, D.C.; Joseph Fairrie of Hagerstown, Md.; Ray Hammer of Elkton, W. Va.; Harry Dickman of Miami Beach, Fla., William Stanley of Charleston, W. Va., Allen Russell of Kerneysville, W. Va. and William Rush of Shepherdstown, W. Va.

Each faces a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Stabbing

underneath his shirt, which was worn loosely outside the waistband of his trousers. Fearing an overt act, Miss Leon told the boy to get out of the car, as she intended to turn left onto Grant St.

It was then that the youth stabbed her, officers said.

Miss Leon screamed, slammed on the brakes of the auto and leaped out. The youth ran west on W. 9th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hargreaves of 846 Lisbon St., who were in a passing car, heard Miss Leon scream and saw blood on her clothing. They took her to the hospital. Emergency room attendants there notified police of the incident.

Wayne Boley, 18, of 800 Dresden Ave., who also witnessed part of the incident, pursued the fleeing youth, but lost him in the vicinity of Webber Way.

Miss Leon and Boley gave officers a description of the assailant, but it was his conversation earlier with the teacher that led to his arrest.

The boy had mentioned an incident in which he and two others had been involved in school. Officers checked with a teacher, who recalled the names of the three boys who had been involved. Police started a systematic check to find if one of the three boys named had done the stabbing.

The first youth on whom they checked proved to be the suspect.

The boy was taken into custody at 10:30 at his home on Bradshaw Ave. Officers said he gave a statement admitting the stabbing about a half - hour after he was taken into custody.

The investigating officers included Lt. Robert B. Pyle, Det. William A. Devon and Patrolman Charles Coen.

Devon said the identification of the suspect was confirmed by the fact Miss Leon gave officers an exact description of his clothing.

Portuguese Still In Coma

LISBON (AP) — Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar rallied slightly during the night, though still in a coma and partially paralyzed, and an American specialist flew today to join the fight for his life.

A communique shortly before midnight Tuesday said the condition of the 79-year-old dictator's heart and nervous system was improving. He suffered a stroke Monday as he was recuperating from head surgery on Sept. 7.

Dr. Bissaia Barreto, a longtime friend of Salazar, said on leaving Red Cross Hospital today: "We can think of recuperation again."

But the premier was understood to be still in grave danger.

Dr. Houston Merritt of New York was summoned after U.S. Ambassador William Tapley Bennett offered aid. Merritt is from the neurological institute of the Columbia University Medical Center.

President Americo Thomaz met for two hours Tuesday with the Council of State, made up of 15 prominent oficials and citizens whose advice he must seek before naming a new premier.

Pledges 'Hard Work From Him'

Johnson's Endorsement Of HHH Dispels 'Gossip'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's endorsement should dispell "gossip" about whether he wants Hubert H. Humphrey to win the presidency, says a top Humphrey adviser.

"It puts to rest the gossip—and it never was anything more than that," said Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., Tuesday after Johnson ended a public silence on his vice president's campaign for the White House.

In a message to the Texas Democratic convention, Johnson said that he will support Humphrey and "work as hard for him as he has worked for America."

Harris and other top Democrats predictably welcomed Johnson's message and Harris added that "it will be especially helpful to us in our need to carry Texas."

Republicans also were predictable in their reaction. Several said Johnson's praise will only tie Humphrey closer to the Johnson record, something the GOP sees as a plus for its side.

Harris said that insofar as the statement ties Humphrey to the Johnson record, "there was never any way he could escape that record, nor did he want to."

"This doesn't diminish the vice president's ability to talk about the future and about building on the Johnson administration programs. He can talk about the future and what he would do as president."

The Oklahoma senator said that if there is an anti-Johnson vote, as the Republicans contend, "there is nothing the vice president can do to lessen that vote."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., running for re-election, said the President's statement "only empasizes the identification to Humphrey with the administration and its policies."

"In my judgment, that is the biggest political load the vice president is carrying," Javits said. "The endorsement will work in reverse."

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., a vice presidential candidate in 1952, said he thinks the President's action "takes away some of the sting of the charges that there is a division between the President and the vice president on the issues."

"It is always helpful to have the man who holds the office endorse you," Sparkman said. "I don't think the President's statement necessarily ties Humphrey to the Johnson policies."

Sen. Everett B. Jordan, D-N.C., whose state has become a three-cornered battleground between Humphrey, GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon and third party contender George C. Wallace, said it was a "tossup" whether the President's endorsement would help or hurt Humphrey in the South.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said he doesn't think the statement will have much effect.

"Humphrey is tied to the Johnson administration record in any event," Hickenlooper said. "But Humphrey has to stand or fall on Humphrey and not the President's record."

Club Honors Mrs. Banks For 33 Years Of Service

Mrs. Hardress Banks was honored for 33 years of service during the third annual tea of the Dauntless Friendship Federated Club Sunday afternoon at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex on Broadway.

Mrs. Caesar A. Peters served as mistress of ceremonies for the event, attended by 85.

Mrs. Banks, a past district president and past state trustee, holds a lifetime membership in the National Association of Federated Clubs. Mrs. Henry Roach, club president, made the presentation to Mrs. Banks on behalf of the organization.

Mrs. Alonzo Spencer introduced Miss Henrietta E. Arrington, a teacher at the Grant School, Steubenville, guest speaker.

She reviewed the woman's role in the home, church and the community. She was presented an orchid corsage on behalf of the club by Mrs. Peters.

Mrs. Howard Monroe extended the welcome and presented Mrs. Peters, who is district president, with an orchid corsage on behalf of the club. Mrs. Bessie Cruse of Steubenville responded to the welcome.

Miss Betty Buben, president of the East Liverpool City Federation, spoke and Mrs. Roach acknowledged the visitors and gave closing remarks.

The program opened with the singing of "America," the flag salute and "The Lord's Prayer" led by Mrs. Russell Carter.

Miss Denise Hosey of Midland presented a coval solo and Miss Stephanie Carter a piano solo.

Mrs. Eugene Taylor and Mrs. Jim Washington were in charge of special prizes. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Callie Euill and Mrs. Margaret Veney, with Mrs. Monroe and Mrs. Spencer presiding at the tea table.

2nd Firm Plans To Raze Building Which Collapsed

Owners of the former Faulk Feed Mill Co. building, a wall of which collapsed onto the new Dresden Ave. post office building last Wednesday, have authorized another demolition firm to complete the razing of the old structure.

Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne said this morning the Mangano interests have signed a contract with Ira VanFossan of Chester to finish dismantling the structure.

The H. R. Burton & Sons Co. of Columbus, which had been razing the structure when one wall fell onto the unfinished postal facility, injuring two electricians and a painting contractor, has withdrawn from the project.

The McClorey & McClorey Co. of Cincinnati, contractors for the post office, are continuing work in other parts of the facility, and preparing to start repairs in the damaged section when the adjacent Faulk building is razed.

Completion of the post office will be delayed for some time, but the formal dedication of the structure may yet take place in November, one source said.

Frank Mitcheson of Calcutta and James Smith of near Chester, the two electricians, were released from City Hospital Monday. Hollis Logue of Calcutta Acres, painter, was released Friday.

Court Ruling Waited On Ohio

Wallace Has Qualified For Name On All Ballots

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — George C. Wallace, showing signs of fatigue after a strenuous campaign swing through the Southwest, has completed an eight-month effort to meet the qualifications as a third-party presidential candidate for the ballots of all 50 states.

Wallace talked by telephone Tuesday night to 700 of his followers at a state convention in Seattle, Wash., the final state in which he met ballot requirements.

Wallace has ben certified on the ballots of only 45 states but has met the qualifications in all, an accomplishment that required the signatures of nearly three million persons.

In Ohio, however, his certification awaits a ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court, expected Oct. 7.

In his conversation to Seattle, where his voice was broadcast in a meeting room and he was frequently interrupted by applause, Wallace repeated many of his standard points, stressed at rallies throughout his campaign. He spoke from his hotel room, seated in a chair, legs crossed.

The former Alabama governor has been suffering from a virus and complained to aides in recent days about his crowded campaign schedule.

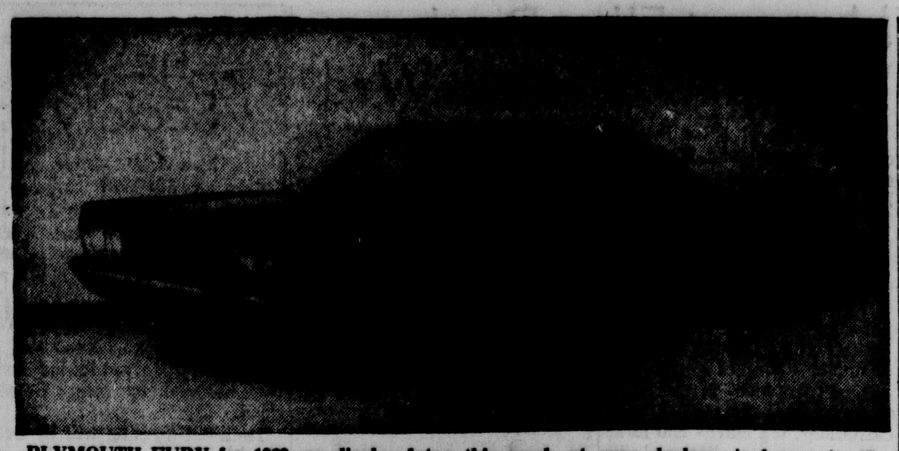
He said he planned to take a few days off early next week to relax at his home in Montgomery, Ala. He also said he perhaps would announce his choice for a vice presidential running mate at that time.

Wallace spoke in Tulsa to an overflow crowd of more than 7,500, but his performance lacked the fire and dash that has typified his past campaign oratory.

His schedule today began at 6:20 a.m. and ends at 12:45 a.m. Thursday without a break.

He will have a rally and a brunch in Cape Girardeau, Mo., fly on to Kansas City, Mo., for a dinner and rally and then fly back to Montgomery. He plans to campaign in northern Florida Friday.

Wallace told his Tulsa audience "the platform for the American Independent party is now being drafted and will be released soon." He said it would cover all the domestic and foreign areas that the other national party candidates dealt with in their platforms.



PLYMOUTH FURY for 1969, on display later this week at area dealers, is larger in 17 models and almost two inches wider with various new features. Fury is the volume car of the line which includes the compact Valiant, sport Barracuda and intermediate Belvedere.

Czech Leaders Again Appeal To Refugees To Come Home

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist leaders directed new appeals today to thousands of Czechs and Slovaks, asking them to come home from the West where they are waiting to see how things go in their occupied homeland.

The appeal by the 21-man presidium of the Communist party said those who have not broken Czechoslovak laws have no fear of prosecution.

The presidium also announced after a meeting Tuesday that another round of talks would be held soon with the Soviet Union on the implementation of the Moscow agreement in which party chief Alexander Dubcek's regime agreed to meet Russian demands in return for gradual withdrawal of the Soviet occupation force.

Unconfirmed reports circulated that Dubcek, President Ludvik Svoboda and Premier Oldrich Cernik would go to Moscow later this week.

The presidium did not indicate whether travel to the West will remain relatively free. The flow to the West has resumed after some interruption due to the Soviet invasion Aug. 20, and persons with relatives traveling abroad predicted that any move to close the borders would not come until more of those now in the West have returned home.

The exact number of Czechoslovaks in the West is not available, but several thousand are known to be in Austria, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia and West Germany. The invasion occurred at the height of the summer vacation season, and many of those who have prolonged their stays are skilled workers, production officials, scientists, professional people and intellectuals. Their continued absence is a serious blow to the Czechoslovak economy and social services.

Dr. Sheppard, Hospital Sued For $1,185,000

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard and the Youngstown Osteopathic Hospital face two wrongful death suits totaling over $1 million.

Liberty Township Fire Chief Martin L. Duffy filed suit in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court Tuesday for $685,000, claiming negligence in the death of his wife, Mary, last May 16.

Duffy claims Sheppard failed to perform proper post - operative care for his wife, who died 16 hours after the operation. He said the hospital was negligent in selecting Dr. Sheppard for its staff since he had not practiced in 10 years.

On Sept. 7, Marcia Lopez filed a $530,000 suit against Dr. Sheppard and the hospital. She said her husband, Samuel, died following a spinal operation performed by Dr. Sheppard on Aug. 6.

Sheppard, who spent nearly 10 years in Ohio Penitentiary, joined the hospital staff this summer. He was convicted in 1954 of the bludgeon death of his first wife, Marilyn, in their Bay Village home.

A federal court ruled he did not get a fair trial, and he was acquitted in a second trial.

Miss Linda Rolley, maid of honor, wore a yellow crepe gown trimmed in Venice lace. It was designed along Empire lines. She wore a matching petal headpiece trimmed in arrangement of white spider mums with moss green streamers. Bridesmaids were Miss Paula Todd and Miss Beth Todd, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Thomas Moore and Miss Diana Lerch, sisters of the bridegroom. They were attired in gowns identical to that of the maid of honor.

Miss Kimberly Barborak, flower girl, wore a frock of yellow crepe with white lace trimming designed by the mother of the bride. She carried a miniature cascade arrangement. Ross Grimes, a nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Bruce Shapiro was best man. Ushers were John Watkin, Jeff Kamil, John Falone and Bob Burkhart.

A yellow ribbon - embroidered frock on "cage" design with yellow accessories and a corsage of white spider mums was chosen by the bride's mother.

Two Men Sought In Bank Robbery

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Two men sought for bank robbery apparently squeezed out of a dragnet Tuesday as heavily armed officers with dogs closed in on a dense wooded area on Toledo's suburban West Side.

Police believe one of the men sought is Victor Malone, 21, Detroit, Mich., a jail escapee who has vowed never to be taken alive. The second man has not been identified.

A gunman answering Malone's description held up the suburban Holland branch of the Ohio Citizens Trust Co. Tuesday afternoon and took an estimated $3,000.

Bank employes said the bandit, wearing a wig and carrying a small handgun, handled the holdup alone while his accomplice, also wearing a wig, waited outside.

The Rev. Donald Bell, pastor of the host church, and Fr. Robert Hickey of the Chester Sacred Heart Catholic Church participated.

Topics included the place of Scripture within the church, the authority of the Pope and confessions in relationship to Scripture, the need for Roman Catholics and Protestants to study the Scripture together, and other ways in which the two Christian bodies may participate in community concerns.

Approximately 100 of the congregation attended and joined in a question-and-answer period.

Plans for a similar dialogue with Fr. Hickey in the Catholic church are being made.

The basic views of the Presbyterian and Catholic churches on various issues were discussed during a family night Sunday at the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Donald Bell, pastor of the host church, and Fr. Robert Hickey of the Chester Sacred Heart Catholic Church participated.

Topics included the place of Scripture within the church, the authority of the Pope and confessions in relationship to Scripture, the need for Roman Catholics and Protestants to study the Scripture together, and other ways in which the two Christian bodies may participate in community concerns.

Approximately 100 of the congregation attended and joined in a question-and-answer period.

Plans for a similar dialogue with Fr. Hickey in the Catholic church are being made.

Co - chairman of the dinner for the host church were Mrs. James Cooper and Mrs. Richard Barnhart. They were assisted by 25 members of the congregation.

The participants agreed that the night was a "most gratifying experience" and indicated that the opportunity to form a relationship between the churches should be continued in the community, Rev. Bell said.

Narick May Run Against Abel For USW Presidency

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Emil E. Narick, assistant general counsel of the United Steelworkers, says he wants to speak with the members before he comments on the chance of his opposing incumbent USW Pres. I. W. Abel in the February elections.

The Pittsburgh Post - Gazette said Tuesday a committee backing Narick for the union presidency has mailed a brochure to members. It says the union membership is no longer content with "the present top leadership of our union — or lack of it."

Gun Attacks Continue In Middle East

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Jordanian gunners kept up their duel across the Jordan River Tuesday night as the U.N. Security Council neared approval of a resolution calling once more on Israel and her Arab foes to observe the cease-fire.

Artillery exchanges were reported near Sidra, 30 miles north of the Dead Sea, at Umm Sidra, and at the desert settlement of Neot Hakikar, 15 miles south of the Dead Sea.

No Israeli casualties were reported.

Meanwhile, Jordan reported that three persons—a man, his wife and their child—were injured Tuesday morning when Israel shelled the town of Irbid. The Israelis said the shelling was in retaliation for an Arab rocket attack Monday night on the town of Bet She'an in which eight Israelis were reported wounded.

Israeli officials were particularly concerned about the attack on Bet She'an because it was the first attack on a populated area in the Beisan Valley since June 4 and because for the first time big 130mm rockets were used.

At the United Nations, members of the 15-nation Security Council were awaiting approval from their governments before voting on a resolution drafted by the council's 10 nonpermanent members.

Diplomatic sources said it was possible the council members could meet today to adopt the proposal, which calls on Israel and the Arab nations to "rigorously respect" the cease-fire ordered by council resolutions and to give full cooperation to Gunnar Jarring of Sweden, the special U.N. representative in the Middle East who has been trying to arrange an Arab-Israeli settlement.

The resolution is the council's answer to complaints from Israel and Egypt about recent clashes across the Suez Canal. The United Nations earlier Tuesday protested to Egypt and Israel that their exchange of fire across the canal on Sept. 8 put U.N. cease-fire observers "in grave and unnecessary danger" and damaged U.N. installations.

The protest said that two control centers, three observation posts and seven houses used by U.N. personnel had been fired on deliberately.

Rotary Club Boosts Dues

Rotarians will pay more dues, beginning in 1969.

The action, approved by the board of directors, was announced during Tuesday's noon meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

President Carl Pelini pointed out that to meet commitments, they considered three alternatives, a fund - raising drive, individual donations and the dues increase.

Ed Thomas of Salem and Richard Wilson screened slides of their trip to Hawaii.

90-Day Sentence Given City Man In Assault Case

A West End man today was sentenced by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff to two concurrent terms that will mean 90 days in jail on two assault and battery charges involving women — one incident allegedly occurring a month ago and the other dating back to August 1967.

Leonard Dorsey of Fairview St. was given a 30-day term in City Jail on a charge of assault and battery Aug. 18 on Mary Collins of Gaston Pl. He was given a 90-day term in County Jail on a charge of assault and battery Aug. 24 of last year on Lois Jean Boswell of Hookstown RD 1. The court ordered that "the two sentences will run concurrently and the older case will take precedence."

Dorsey previously had pleaded not guilty to the assault on the Collins woman. But he switched his plea to guilty today through his counsel, George A. Aronson. Defense counsel said the plea was changed as a result of "discussion and investigation by myself and the prosecutor," Solicitor J. Michael Kapp.

Soviet Given U.S. Warning On Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told the Soviet Union that any attempt to use force against West Germany would be met with "immediate allied response."

A State Department spokesman made this statement Tuesday in reply to a Soviet note to West Germany last July in which it raised the possibility that under two articles of the U.N. charter the Soviet Union could use force against the Bonn government.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department spokesman, issued the statement, but offered no explanation as to why it was being made more than two months after the original Soviet message.

Neither of the two articles, "nor the two taken together, give the Soviet Union or other Warsaw Pact members any right to intervene by force unilaterally in the Federal Republic of Germany," the statement said.

The court ordered that "the two sentences will run concurrently and the older case will take precedence."

Dorsey previously had pleaded not guilty to the assault on the Collins woman. But he switched his plea to guilty today through his counsel, George A. Aronson. Defense counsel said the plea was changed as a result of "discussion and investigation by myself and the prosecutor," Solicitor J. Michael Kapp.

Soviet Given U.S. Warning On Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told the Soviet Union that any attempt to use force against West Germany would be met with "immediate allied response."

A State Department spokesman made this statement Tuesday in reply to a Soviet note to West Germany last July in which it raised the possibility that under two articles of the U.N. charter the Soviet Union could use force against the Bonn government.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department spokesman, issued the statement, but offered no explanation as to why it was being made more than two months after the original Soviet message.

Neither of the two articles, "nor the two taken together, give the Soviet Union or other Warsaw Pact members any right to intervene by force unilaterally in the Federal Republic of Germany," the statement said.

The Pittsburgh Post - Gazette said Tuesday a committee backing Narick for the union presidency has mailed a brochure to members. It says the union membership is no longer content with "the present top leadership of our union — or lack of it."

Gun Attacks Continue In Middle East

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Jordanian gunners kept up their duel across the Jordan River Tuesday night as the U.N. Security Council neared approval of a resolution calling once more on Israel and her Arab foes to observe the cease-fire.

Artillery exchanges were reported near Sidra, 30 miles north of the Dead Sea, at Umm Sidra, and at the desert settlement of Neot Hakikar, 15 miles south of the Dead Sea.

No Israeli casualties were reported.

Meanwhile, Jordan reported that three persons—a man, his wife and their child—were injured Tuesday morning when Israel shelled the town of Irbid. The Israelis said the shelling was in retaliation for an Arab rocket attack Monday night on the town of Bet She'an in which eight Israelis were reported wounded.

Israeli officials were particularly concerned about the attack on Bet She'an because it was the first attack on a populated area in the Beisan Valley since June 4 and because for the first time big 130mm rockets were used.

At the United Nations, members of the 15-nation Security Council were awaiting approval from their governments before voting on a resolution drafted by the council's 10 nonpermanent members.

Diplomatic sources said it was possible the council members could meet today to adopt the proposal, which calls on Israel and the Arab nations to "rigorously respect" the cease-fire ordered by council resolutions and to give full cooperation to Gunnar Jarring of Sweden, the special U.N. representative in the Middle East who has been trying to arrange an Arab-Israeli settlement.

The resolution is the council's answer to complaints from Israel and Egypt about recent clashes across the Suez Canal. The United Nations earlier Tuesday protested to Egypt and Israel that their exchange of fire across the canal on Sept. 8 put U.N. cease-fire observers "in grave and unnecessary danger" and damaged U.N. installations.

The protest said that two control centers, three observation posts and seven houses used by U.N. personnel had been fired on deliberately.

Rotary Club Boosts Dues

Rotarians will pay more dues, beginning in 1969.

The action, approved by the board of directors, was announced during Tuesday's noon meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

President Carl Pelini pointed out that to meet commitments, they considered three alternatives, a fund - raising drive, individual donations and the dues increase.

Ed Thomas of Salem and Richard Wilson screened slides of their trip to Hawaii.

Study, Possible Revision Scheduled For Tax Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — No matter who is president or which party controls the House, the complicated and much-amended tax code is due for a searching study and possible revision next year.

Both Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, and Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., who is in line to be chairman if the Republicans take over the House, say they favor a full-scale review of the Internal Revenue Code.

In separate interviews, both said they would put the review high on the committee's order of business and were prepared to schedule weeks, possibly months, of hearings.

Although some minor modifications were made in the code in connection with the 1964 tax reductions, there has been no extensive review of the tax laws since 1954.

Over the years a host of special provisions have been attached to the code, many of which are said by critics to be loopholes for the well-to-do and the well-advised.

Demands were made in Congress earlier this year in connection with passage of the 10 per cent income surtax for revisions to allow for additional revenue without a general tax increase

But the Treasury pleaded against what promised to be controversial and drawn-out study of the code at the time because of what it said was the urgent need for immediate passage of the surtax.

The Treasury did promise to recommend to Congress possible changes in the law. Congressional leaders don't expect the recommendations until after the November elections.

There has been no official disclosure of what the Treasury may recommend, but it is not expected to call for abolition or drastic reduction of the controversial 37½ per cent oil depletion allowance.

Other likely subjects for review include:

—Revisions in the capital gains tax, including possible changes in when it would be imposed and on the length of time assets can be held before straight income tax is applied in place of the capital gains tax.

—Limitations on income splitting within a family. Revision of estate and gift taxes so as to make it less attractive to give away property during lifetime in order to lower the estate tax ultimate heirs will pay.

—Tightening the regulations on tax-exempt foundations, which have already been the subject of extensive congressional studies.

—Limiting the present opportunity of reducing the taxes on a business by organizing it into several corporations.

—Possibly a proposal for a minimum income tax on higher incomes so that no one could escape taxation entirely as for example, by investing exclusively in tax-exempt municipal bonds. Such a proposal was incorporated in the Democratic party platform.

—In general, changes designed to lighten the tax burden at the lowest end of the income scale. A precedent of sorts may have been set this year when the lowest brackets were exempted from the surtax.

Planners Get Two Reports

LISBON — Horace McLean, Columbiana County planning consultant, submitted two additional reports — on public utilities and on community facilities — at a meeting of the Regional Planning Commission Tuesday night.

McLean of McLean & McGraw of Youngstown also discussed reports on strip mining in the county and a zoning handbook which are part of the comprehensive plan being prepared by the firm.

Lack of a quorum prevented formal acceptance of the last two reports. They and the two other reports will be submitted for acceptance at the next meeting of the commission Oct. 15.

McLean said the comprehensive plan is about 90 per cent complete, but the Oct. 1 deadline for filing the plan will not be met because of delays in providing transportation data from Mosure & Fok, engineering firm.

However, McLean reported the state authorities said a few weeks delay would not jeopardize state approval of the plan and final granting of funds.

Glenn Waight, vice president, conducted business in the absence of Floyd Lower, president, who has been visiting Russia.

Gas Pump Hit, Motorist Cited

An East End man was cited by police after his auto allegedly damaged a gasoline pump Tuesday at 1:11 p.m. in the Petrosol Service Station at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce St.

Holly Dale Rose, 61, of 830 Pennsylvania Ave. was charged with being in physical control of an auto while under the influence of alcohol. The station is owned by Jay Roberts and Monroe Williams. Rose's 1959 auto was undamaged. Rose gave no explanation for the mishap, police said.

Another motorist was cited after a collision on Webber Way 35 feet east of Dresden Ave. Tuesday at 2:23 p.m.

A halted 1964 sedan driven by Robert W. McCauley, 29, of 211 10th St., Wellsville, was hit from the rear by a 1958 four-door sedan operated by Ruby K. Tougher Ohio Laws 'Key' Role In Cutting Road Deaths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tougher laws enacted by the last legislature played a key role in reducing traffic fatalities in Ohio during the first eight months on 1968, state officials said today.

"Ohio was the only one of the 'Big 8' states to show a decrease in highway deaths for the first eight months, and much of the credit must go to the new laws which guarantee stricter controls in all areas," said Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson.

Nelson, reporting on Ohio's traffic safety outlook during the period, noted that total deaths fell from 1,148 ot 1,130—a drop of 18—compared to the corresponding months of 1967.

"The omnibus traffic safety law has given all departments new and more effective tools with which to fight the havoc on our highways," Nelson added.

The omnibus bill became effective last Jan. 1 and state officials disclosed these statistics for the first eight months of the year compared to the January-August period of 1967:

— Motor vehicle registration rose 120,640 from 5,614,953 to 5,735,593, but fatalities decreased by 18 and injuries by 7,697, from 75,697 to 68,000.

— Motorcycle accidents declined from 2,689 to 2,400, a reduction of 289, resulting in 19 fewer deaths (96 to 77) and 633 fewer injuries (2,433 to 1,800).

— Pedestrian deaths fell by eight from 235 to 227.

— Blood-alcohol tests for intoxication led to 1,625 motorists losing their licenses, an increase of 343 above last year's 1,722.

Officials also noted that the Ohio Highway Patrol's random inspection teams examined 696,447 vehicles—an average of 2,900 a day—and found 416,000 with defects and 280,047 in good condition.

Infant Beaver Falls Boy Dies Following Liver Transplant

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 14-month-old boy, who received the liver of a baby girl in a 6½ hour operation Monday,. died during the night at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Hospital officials gave no details immediately on the death of Robert McCune, the son of a Beaver Falls, Pa., Presbyterian minister.

McCune received the liver of a 14-month-old unidentified girl who died of a brain tumor.

Announcement of the operation was made Tuesday by Harold Luebs, administrator of the hospital.

He said the McCune child was suffering from a rare condition, congenital biliary atresia, where there is a complete absence of bile ducts. He said the condition prevents the bile from draining into the liver and intestines.

The hospital said transplantation was the only known cure for he condition. Without a transplant, the hospital said, death usually occurs before 18 monhts of age.

Luebs described the operation as "rarer than heart transplants." The child's condition had been listed as critical since the operation.

Luebs said a five-man surgical team began the operation at 5:30 a.m. Monday and completed the transplant at noon. He said the donor died at 11:30 p.m. Sunday and the liver was kept clinically alive in a heart-lung machine.

The boy's father is pastor of the Campbell United Presbyterian Church in Beaver Falls. He and his wife have three other children, ages two to five.

Toledo Remains Relatively Quiet For Third Night

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo remained relatively quiet Tuesday night, the third straight night under a curfew.

Police reported only routine trouble calls, a few nuisance false alarms and a fire in a vacant building which could not be directly attributed to the racial unrest that caused disturbances in the Dorr-Detroit neighborhood last weekend.

Mayor William Ensign, in announcing Tuesday continuation of the 9 p. m. to 6 a. m. curfew for youths under 18, said he would consider easing precautions and extra work shifts for police if conditions remained quiet.

Ensign declined to comment on charges by the Fraternal Ordr of Police and the Patrolman's Benevolent Association that city officials used "unprofessional tactics" during the racial disorders.

FOB President James Tierney and PBA President William Morris issued a statement Tuesday accusing officials of "confusion and indecision" during the disturbances and warning that if "this sort of thing is not straightened out there will be a mass rebellion of well - trained police officers."

Morris claimed that 11 policemen were injured unnecessarily because of "belated decisions and failure to break up militant groups of rioters from the beginning."

The statements said command officers were stripped of their decision making authority and prisoners were released who had been legally arrested.

Road Survey Due Relative To Students

Ohio Department of Education transportation officials will be in East Liverpool next Tuesday to inspect roads in the area with an eye to determining whether or not they are too hazardous for walking students.

Supt. Paul Blair contacted the state department yesterday morning. Hanford Combs, chief of the transportation section at Columbus, and Zygmont E. Rataiczak, regional transportation coordinator at Steubenville, will come here at the board of education's request.

The action followed a board meeting Monday night when approximately 30 residents of the LaCroft area and the East End expressed concern over the fact that their children had to walk to school on what they termed "hazardous" roads.

Should the state officials determine they are hazardous and agree to reimburse the East Liverpool School District for transporting them within the mile limit, the children could be transported, it was pointed out.

Roy Bratt of Lisbon St. Monday night said, "If the terrain of this area is bad enough to warrant the change from the two-mile ruling to a one-mile ruling for transportation cost reimbursement, perhaps the state officials will find them hazardous enough to reduce this mile limit."

McLean of McLean & McGraw of Youngstown also discussed reports on strip mining in the county and a zoning handbook which are part of the comprehensive plan being prepared by the firm.

Lack of a quorum prevented formal acceptance of the last two reports. They and the two other reports will be submitted for acceptance at the next meeting of the commission Oct. 15.

McLean said the comprehensive plan is about 90 per cent complete, but the Oct. 1 deadline for filing the plan will not be met because of delays in providing transportation data from Mosure & Fok, engineering firm.

However, McLean reported the state authorities said a few weeks delay would not jeopardize state approval of the plan and final granting of funds.

Gas Pump Hit, Motorist Cited

An East End man was cited by police after his auto allegedly damaged a gasoline pump Tuesday at 1:11 p.m. in the Petrosol Service Station at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce St.

Holly Dale Rose, 61, of 830 Pennsylvania Ave. was charged with being in physical control of an auto while under the influence of alcohol. The station is owned by Jay Roberts and Monroe Williams. Rose's 1959 auto was undamaged. Rose gave no explanation for the mishap, police said.

Another motorist was cited after a collision on Webber Way 35 feet east of Dresden Ave. Tuesday at 2:23 p.m.

A halted 1964 sedan driven by Robert W. McCauley, 29, of 211 10th St., Wellsville, was hit from the rear by a 1958 four-door sedan operated by Ruby K. Morris, 29, of Jacksonville, Fla., officers said. McCauley told police he was halted for a traffic signal when his car was hit from the rear. The woman blamed brake failure.

Tougher Ohio Laws 'Key' Role In Cutting Road Deaths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tougher laws enacted by the last legislature played a key role in reducing traffic fatalities in Ohio during the first eight months on 1968, state officials said today.

"Ohio was the only one of the 'Big 8' states to show a decrease in highway deaths for the first eight months, and much of the credit must go to the new laws which guarantee stricter controls in all areas," said Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson.

Nelson, reporting on Ohio's traffic safety outlook during the period, noted that total deaths fell from 1,148 ot 1,130—a drop of 18—compared to the corresponding months of 1967.

"The omnibus traffic safety law has given all departments new and more effective tools with which to fight the havoc on our highways," Nelson added.

The omnibus bill became effective last Jan. 1 and state officials disclosed these statistics for the first eight months of the year compared to the January-August period of 1967:

— Motor vehicle registration rose 120,640 from 5,614,953 to 5,735,593, but fatalities decreased by 18 and injuries by 7,697, from 75,697 to 68,000.

— Motorcycle accidents declined from 2,689 to 2,400, a reduction of 289, resulting in 19 fewer deaths (96 to 77) and 633 fewer injuries (2,433 to 1,800).

— Pedestrian deaths fell by eight from 235 to 227.

— Blood-alcohol tests for intoxication led to 1,625 motorists losing their licenses, an increase of 343 above last year's 1,722.

Officials also noted that the Ohio Highway Patrol's random inspection teams examined 696,447 vehicles—an average of 2,900 a day—and found 416,000 with defects and 280,047 in good condition.

Infant Beaver Falls Boy Dies Following Liver Transplant

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 14-month-old boy, who received the liver of a baby girl in a 6½ hour operation Monday, died during the night at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Hospital officials gave no details immediately on the death of Robert McCune, the son of a Beaver Falls, Pa., Presbyterian minister.

McCune received the liver of a 14-month-old unidentified girl who died of a brain tumor.

Announcement of the operation was made Tuesday by Harold Luebs, administrator of the hospital.

He said the McCune child was suffering from a rare condition, congenital biliary atresia, where there is a complete absence of bile ducts. He said the condition prevents the bile from draining into the liver and intestines.

The hospital said transplantation was the only known cure for he condition. Without a transplant, the hospital said, death usually occurs before 18 monhts of age.

Luebs described the operation as "rarer than heart transplants." The child's condition had been listed as critical since the operation.

Luebs said a five-man surgical team began the operation at 5:30 a.m. Monday and completed the transplant at noon. He said the donor died at 11:30 p.m. Sunday and the liver was kept clinically alive in a heart-lung machine.

The boy's father is pastor of the Campbell United Presbyterian Church in Beaver Falls. He and his wife have three other children, ages two to five.

Toledo Remains Relatively Quiet For Third Night

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo remained relatively quiet Tuesday night, the third straight night under a curfew.

Police reported only routine trouble calls, a few nuisance false alarms and a fire in a vacant building which could not be directly attributed to the racial unrest that caused disturbances in the Dorr-Detroit neighborhood last weekend.

Mayor William Ensign, in announcing Tuesday continuation of the 9 p. m. to 6 a. m. curfew for youths under 18, said he would consider easing precautions and extra work shifts for police if conditions remained quiet.

Ensign declined to comment on charges by the Fraternal Ordr of Police and the Patrolman's Benevolent Association that city officials used "unprofessional tactics" during the racial disorders.

FOB President James Tierney and PBA President William Morris issued a statement Tuesday accusing officials of "confusion and indecision" during the disturbances and warning that if "this sort of thing is not straightened out there will be a mass rebellion of well - trained police officers."

Morris claimed that 11 policemen were injured unnecessarily because of "belated decisions and failure to break up militant groups of rioters from the beginning."

The statements said command officers were stripped of their decision making authority and prisoners were released who had been legally arrested.

Road Survey Due Relative To Students

Ohio Department of Education transportation officials will be in East Liverpool next Tuesday to inspect roads in the area with an eye to determining whether or not they are too hazardous for walking students.

Supt. Paul Blair contacted the state department yesterday morning. Hanford Combs, chief of the transportation section at Columbus, and Zygmont E. Rataiczak, regional transportation coordinator at Steubenville, will come here at the board of education's request.

The action followed a board meeting Monday night when approximately 30 residents of the LaCroft area and the East End expressed concern over the fact that their children had to walk to school on what they termed "hazardous" roads.

Should the state officials determine they are hazardous and agree to reimburse the East Liverpool School District for transporting them within the mile limit, the children could be transported, it was pointed out.

Roy Bratt of Lisbon St. Monday night said, "If the terrain of this area is bad enough to warrant the change from the two-mile ruling to a one-mile ruling for transportation cost reimbursement, perhaps the state officials will find them hazardous enough to reduce this mile limit."

Detroit Goes Wild, Celebrates First Pennant In 23 Years

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

If you want to do something in sports and don't want to see it in a paper, do it on a Saturday night.

This doesn't apply to local happenings which will be covered by local papers any time, but to national and regional events. Sunday morning papers have an earlier deadline than morning papers the rest of the week, and if something isn't reported by 10 or 11 p.m. it usually won't make the Sunday paper. And by the time Monday rolls around, the wire services are so busy with Sunday events they ignore what happened Saturday night.

Several people have asked why there are no Saturday night football scores (aside from the local games) in the Monday Review, and the reason is our wire service (the AP) does not supply them. I have queried Columbus on this point and the response was that there were too many other things to send for Monday's cycle.

In Japan, the Saturday night problem is avoided by publishing Sunday afternoon papers, but no one in this country wants to come in on Sunday mornings to get out such a paper.

Anyhow, in answer to the specific question, Steubenville Central beat Follansbee 48-24 Saturday night.

CAL ERMER, manager of the Minnesota Twins, recently was connected with the pressbox while trying to get his bullpen to warm up a pitcher. The way the Twins have been going, maybe one of the writers could have done a better job of pitching.

SHEA STADIUM isn't the only place for wacky banners. One at Yankee Stadium recently read "Mickey Mantle for President. Joe Pepitone for First Lady." The latter is an apparent reference to Pepitone's long, mod-style hair.

MAURY WILLS of the Pirates is approaching his 500th stolen base in the major leagues. He is fifth on the all-time (since 1900) list.

When Roberto Clemente homored for his 1,000 career RBI against the Mets the other night, it turned out to be the 1,000th homer struck against the Mets in the club's history.

Tigers Nip Yanks On Wert's Single

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

America's Motor City still was turning itself inside out with jubilation today after a one-step backward title march turned out to be a champagne waltz after all.

"I've waited a long time for this," said Al Kaline after Detroit secured its first American League pennant in 23 years tonight.

And, that just about summed up the feelings of thousands of the Tigers' long-destitute rooters, who touched off a wild, madcap demonstration when Don Wert's two-out bases loaded single in the ninth inning delivered a 2-1 victory over New York.

Thousads of joyful spectators, who had been chanting "Bring on the Cards" from the middle innings on, swarmed onto the field and into the Tiger dugout. It took a regiment of policemen to protect the heroes from their exuberant admirers.

But you couldn't blame them for being a little excited. It's been a long wait.

World War II had just ended and many of the present Tigers were still in diapers—or hadn't been born yet—when Detroit last played host to a World Series.

Actually, the wild outburst of appreciation was a little late. In reality, the Tigers backed into the championship when Boston thwarted second-place Baltimore's faint hopes 2-0 in a game that ended about 10 minutes before the Tiger-Yankee match.

But that score wasn't announced at Tiger Stadium, and most in the crowd of 46,512 were unaware Detroit had won the flag until Wert's game-winning blow.

In other AL games, Washington tripped Cleveland 4-2 and Chicago whipped Oakland 2-1 before losing the nightcap of a doubleheader 8-1. California's scheduled afternoon game at Minnesota was rained out.

It was a typical finish for the Tigers, who have made a habit of last-out victories this season, in a game marked with several dramatic twists.

Not only did Wert, who is having the worst season of his career, produce the winning run, but a last-minute substitute, Joe Sparma, was credited with the victory.

Sparma, 9-10, was called on to make his first appearance since Sept. 2 when Earl Wilson, who was scheduled to pitch, came up with a shoulder injury while warming up.

Sparma, who has been riding the bench because of a dispute with Tiger Manager Mayo Smith last month, scattered five hits and produced Detroit's first run with a single in the fifth that scored Bill Freehan.

The Yanks tied it in the ninth on Jake Gibbs' two-out single, but the Tigers loaded the bases with two out in the bottom of the inning on two walks and Freehan's single before Wert delivered against ace Yankee reliever Lindy McDaniel.

"I knew it was a hit right away," said Wert, on the losing end of a struggle for a .200 average. Don admitted he was worried that Manager Smith would life him for a pinch hitter, and "I sorta hoped he wouldn't."

Smith, given a champagne bath by the players after the game, apparently gave Sparma the starting nod in an effort to patch up their differences.

"I couldn't be happier for a guy than for Joe Sparma," he said.

Meanwhile, Orioles' Manager Earl Weaver congratulated the Tigers, but quickly issued a warning for next season.

"I think we have as much ability as Detroit," he said. "We'll be gunning for them next year."

The Red Sox' Ray Culp, a National League castoff, checked Baltimore on five hits and struck out 12 in winning a duel with 20-game winner Dave McNally.

Culp got all the runs he needed in the first inning when Carl Yastrzemski tripled in one run, then scored on a double by Ken Harrelson.

A two-run double by Frank Howard in the eighth inning broke a 2-2 tie and gave Washington its victory over Cleveland.

Chicago won the opener with Oakland on rookie Bill Melton's two-run homer, but the Athletics snapped a four-game losing streak in the nightcap on John "Blue Moon" Odom six-hitter.

Cronin Denies Umps Fired For Organizing

BOSTON (AP) — "How the hell do you judge an umpire?" Joe Cronin said. "They're just good or bad, that's all."

With that, the American League president took his stand that umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine were fired not because they tried to organize their fellow arbiters but because they were, in Cronin's word, "inefficient."

"Inefficient umpires who were never first class at any time," is what he said.

Salerno and Valentine disputed Cronin.

"There's no doubt that we were released from our jobs because of our organizing activities," Valentine said.

They said the reason they tried to organize the American League umps is that in the National League the umpires are organized and draw $3,000 to $7,750 more a year than their AL peers

Cronin maintained that he had "no knowledge at all" of any organizing activities. He said his umpire-scoting personnel, Cal Hubbard and Charlie Berry, former AL umpires, had "kicked around" the qualifications of Salerno and Valentine for some time before the two were given notices Monday.

"It takes a while to make a big league umpire," Cronin said, explaining his advisors concluded the fired duo didn't have it

A reporter asked Cronin Tuesday what qualifications Salerno and Valentine lacked. It was at that point the league prexy fired back that they were "just inefficient, that's all."

Cronin said he didn't have "any idea" how much National League umpires make. But he added he wouldn't be surprised that they make a little more than their American League counterparts, because of higher attendance in NL parks.

Bengals Trimmed To 41-Player Squad

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League have been trimmed to a 41-player squad.

Released Tuesday were defensive backs White Graves and Warren Powers, quarterback Sam Wyche of Furman; defensive back Jim Williams of Alcorn A&M; and "Monk" Williams of Arkansas A&M who specializes in punt returns.

'C-Boys' Feature Potter Statistics

About 8 or 9 years ago the University of Pittsburgh had Fred Cox, Jim Cunningham and Bob Clemens.

The trio got to be known as the C-boys as they led the Panthers to a couple of good seasons. Cox went on to become a pro kicker with the Minnesota Vikings.

The East Liverpool Potters have their own version of the C-boys, as the season's statistics show that every category, except punting and interception returns, is led by someone whose last name begins with C. Dan Cunningham, Nelson (Sonny) Clark and Tom Chambers are the Potter C-boys, with Floyd Cranston also getting into the act by leading in kickoff returns.

Chambers leads in three categorys, scoring, pass receiving and punt returns. He has done most of the Potter punting, but Jim Moore got off a 36-yarder in his only attempt to be the nominal leader in that department.

Cunningham leads in passing and total offense, by wide margins in both categories. Clark is the leading rusher and John Johnson leads in interception returns.

Captain Jim Musuraca, not one of the C-boys, doesn't lead in any one category, but is second in rushing, passing, receiving and punt returns. Clark is second in scoring and total offense.

Team-wise, the Potters have completely dominated their first two foes, running up a 5-1 ratio in rushing and 3-1 ratios in passing and first downs.

Leek, Francis Repeat Stars At Southern

Tim Leek and Frank Francis repeated as linemen of the week at Southern Local this week.

Leek, an offensive end, had to share honors with guard Curt Ewing. Both made two blocks on every play, according to the coaches.

Francis, a defensive end, put on a fine pass rush and stopped every play coming around his end.

Rich Rose, offensive back of the week last week, was named defensive back, along with Jim Ewing. Both are linebackers and were cited for rushing the passer and tackling.

Ralph (Butch) Dangelo was named offensive back of the week for his blocking.

Jim Ewing and Bob Brown had the most tackles.

Miami, Notre Dame, USC, Texas Picked

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — College football gourmets were treated to a tasty antipasto last week. Now it's time to pass the meat and potatoes.

If you're looking for gridiron goodies, there's a heaping platter on the fire for this weekend. May we suggest the Barbecued Cougar Ribs? The Grilled Gopher a l'Orange Juice? How about the specialty of the house . . . Gobbler under Crimson-tinted glass?

We're still trying to digest last week's appetizers . . . only 10 of 16 choices proved palatable . . . so we'll just take pot luck and hope for the best.

The picks:

Friday Night

Miami, Fla. over Northwestern: The Wildcats open a suicide schedule . . . Southern California, Purdue and Notre Dame are next . . . by tangling with Miami's "Mad Stork," 6-foot-8 defensive end Ted Hendricks. They'll probably be sorry they did.

Saturday Afternoon

Notre Dame over Oklahoma: Sooner stars Bob Warmack and Eddie Hinton will give the rebuilt Irish defense occasional fits, but ND's Terry Hanratty-Jim Seymour aerial act should keep the visitors on the wrong side of South Bend in this initial confrontation of Top Ten powerhouses.

Southern California over Minnesota: Last year's national champs don't expect a picnic in the North Woods . . . the Gophers are big enough to swallow "Orange Juice" Simpson in one gulp. But they'll have to catch him first.

Purdue over Virginia: No, Virginia . . . you won't find Santa Claus in Lafayette, Ind. Just Leroy Kyes . . . and he's liable to clog your chimney.

Texas over Houston: The Cougar juggernaut rolled up 54 points against Tulane last week. The Longhorns have thicker hides . . . and the home ground for this Lone Star shoot-out.

Florida over Air Force: One vote for home-brewed Gatorade and 100-proof Larry Smith to flatten the flyboys.

Oregon State over Iowa: Bill "Earthquake" Enyart, the Beavers' 230-pound fullback, could turn Iowa City into a disaster area.

Penn State over Navy: The Nittany Lions have too much nitty-gritty, starting with tight end Ted Kwalik, for Navy to chew.

Nebraska over Utah: After beating Wyoming's Cowboys to the draw last week, Nebraska is ready for the Indians . . . and these Utes are short of horses.

Indiana over Baylor: The Hoosiers' sensational 1967 sophomores are growing up fast . . . and quarterback Harry Gonso is loaded for Bear.

Michigan State over Syracuse: Duffy Daugherty says the rugged Syracuse defense might stop his Spartans cold. Could Duffy be giving the Orangemen a bit of blarney?

Saturday Night

Alabama over Virginia Tech: The Crimson Tide's 8-1-2 finish last season wasn't Bear Bryant's idea of a banner year. Goodbye Gobblers!

Texas A&M over Louisiana State: Edd Hargett, the Aggies' brilliant quarterback, is best in the tight spots. This figures to be one of them.

UCLA over Pittsburgh: Pitt shows promise after several bleak years. But promise will get the Panthers nowhere against the bruising Bruins.

Jacksonville Takes Third From Jets

By The Associated Press

Columbus guessed wrong twice in the 11th inning Tuesday night, and the Jacksonville Mets as a result have taken an almost insurmountable 3-0 lead over the Jets in their best-of-seven Governor's Cup International League playoff series.

Bib Pfeil opened the 11th for the Mets with a single but was forced at second by Tommy Reynolds, and the Jets then got the second out. Not wanting to pitch to Amos Otis, the Jets walked him intentionally.

Then, with two out and runners on first and second, the Jets drew in their outfield to pitch to line-drive-hitting Will Huckle. But Huckle crossed up the strategy with a single over the outfield that sent home Reynolds with the run that gave Jacksonville a 2-1 victory — its third in succession.

A two-base throwing error by Columbus third baseman Rich Hebner allowed Otis to score the tying run in the seventh inning after the Jets had gone in front.

W. Beaver X-Country Team Wins

Western Beaver opened its cross - country season with a 21-34 win on the Golden Beavers' home course Tuesday.

David Grimm of the winners came home first in 12:26.7. Other scorers for Cecil Allison's team were Tom Smith, Don Albacker, Keith McGaffick and Mike Hoyt.

Summary: 1. Grimm ((W), 2 Corfield (NB), 3. Smith (W), 4. Albacker (W), 5. McGaffick (W), 6. Carothers (NB). 7. Ours (NB), 8. Hoyt (W), 9. Camaioni (W), 10. Shaw (NB).

W. Beaver Seniors Will Be Honored

Senior night will be observed at the Western Beaver-Center Township game at Midland Stadium Saturday at 8 p.m.

Parents of football players and cheerleaders will be introduced in the pregame show. The Band Boosters will present senior band members with jackets at halftime. Peter Sapdaro is the director.

In Japan, the Saturday night problem is avoided by publishing Sunday afternoon papers, but no one in this country wants to come in on Sunday mornings to get out such a paper.

Anyhow, in answer to the specific question, Steubenville Central beat Follansbee 48-24 Saturday night.

CAL ERMER, manager of the Minnesota Twins, recently was connected with the pressbox while trying to get his bullpen to warm up a pitcher. The way the Twins have been going, maybe one of the writers could have done a better job of pitching.

SHEA STADIUM isn't the only place for wacky banners. One at Yankee Stadium recently read "Mickey Mantle for President. Joe Pepitone for First Lady." The latter is an apparent reference to Pepitone's long, mod-style hair.

MAURY WILLS of the Pirates is approaching his 500th stolen base in the major leagues. He is fifth on the all-time (since 1900) list.

When Roberto Clemente homored for his 1,000 career RBI against the Mets the other night, it turned out to be the 1,000th homer struck against the Mets in the club's history.

EAST LIVERPOOL High quaterback Danny Cunningham was among local fans celebrating the clinching of the pennant by the St. Louis Cardinals. Cunningham is a rabid backer of all St. Louis teams, and suffered as the grid Cards fell Monday night on TV.

'C-Boys' Feature Potter Statistics

About 8 or 9 years ago the University of Pittsburgh had Fred Cox, Jim Cunningham and Bob Clemens.

The trio got to be known as the C-boys as they led the Panthers to a couple of good seasons. Cox went on to become a pro kicker with the Minnesota Vikings.

The East Liverpool Potters have their own version of the C-boys, as the season's statistics show that every category, except punting and interception returns, is led by someone whose last name begins with C. Dan Cunningham, Nelson (Sonny) Clark and Tom Chambers are the Potter C-boys, with Floyd Cranston also getting into the act by leading in kickoff returns.

Chambers leads in three categorys, scoring, pass receiving and punt returns. He has done most of the Potter punting, but Jim Moore got off a 36-yarder in his only attempt to be the nominal leader in that department.

Cunningham leads in passing and total offense, by wide margins in both categories. Clark is the leading rusher and John Johnson leads in interception returns.

Captain Jim Musuraca, not one of the C-boys, doesn't lead in any one category, but is second in rushing, passing, receiving and punt returns. Clark is second in scoring and total offense.

Team-wise, the Potters have completely dominated their first two foes, running up a 5-1 ratio in rushing and 3-1 ratios in passing and first downs.

Leek, Francis Repeat Stars At Southern

Tim Leek and Frank Francis repeated as linemen of the week at Southern Local this week.

Leek, an offensive end, had to share honors with guard Curt Ewing. Both made two blocks on every play, according to the coaches.

Francis, a defensive end, put on a fine pass rush and stopped every play coming around his end.

Rich Rose, offensive back of the week last week, was named defensive back, along with Jim Ewing. Both are linebackers and were cited for rushing the passer and tackling.

Ralph (Butch) Dangelo was named offensive back of the week for his blocking.

Jim Ewing and Bob Brown had the most tackles.

Tigers Nip Yanks On Wert's Single

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

America's Motor City still was turning itself inside out with jubilation today after a one-step backward title march turned out to be a champagne waltz after all.

"I've waited a long time for this," said Al Kaline after Detroit secured its first American League pennant in 23 years tonight.

And, that just about summed up the feelings of thousands of the Tigers' long-destitute rooters, who touched off a wild, madcap demonstration when Don Wert's two-out bases loaded single in the ninth inning delivered a 2-1 victory over New York.

Thousads of joyful spectators, who had been chanting "Bring on the Cards" from the middle innings on, swarmed onto the field and into the Tiger dugout. It took a regiment of policemen to protect the heroes from their exuberant admirers.

But you couldn't blame them for being a little excited. It's been a long wait.

World War II had just ended and many of the present Tigers were still in diapers—or hadn't been born yet—when Detroit last played host to a World Series.

Actually, the wild outburst of appreciation was a little late. In reality, the Tigers backed into the championship when Boston thwarted second-place Baltimore's faint hopes 2-0 in a game that ended about 10 minutes before the Tiger-Yankee match.

But that score wasn't announced at Tiger Stadium, and most in the crowd of 46,512 were unaware Detroit had won the flag until Wert's game-winning blow.

In other AL games, Washington tripped Cleveland 4-2 and Chicago whipped Oakland 2-1 before losing the nightcap of a doubleheader 8-1. California's scheduled afternoon game at Minnesota was rained out.

It was a typical finish for the Tigers, who have made a habit of last-out victories this season, in a game marked with several dramatic twists.

Not only did Wert, who is having the worst season of his career, produce the winning run, but a last-minute substitute, Joe Sparma, was credited with the victory.

Sparma, 9-10, was called on to make his first appearance since Sept. 2 when Earl Wilson, who was scheduled to pitch, came up with a shoulder injury while warming up.

Sparma, who has been riding the bench because of a dispute with Tiger Manager Mayo Smith last month, scattered five hits and produced Detroit's first run with a single in the fifth that scored Bill Freehan.

The Yanks tied it in the ninth on Jake Gibbs' two-out single, but the Tigers loaded the bases with two out in the bottom of the inning on two walks and Freehan's single before Wert delivered against ace Yankee reliever Lindy McDaniel.

"I knew it was a hit right away," said Wert, on the losing end of a struggle for a .200 average. Don admitted he was worried that Manager Smith would life him for a pinch hitter, and "I sorta hoped he wouldn't."

Smith, given a champagne bath by the players after the game, apparently gave Sparma the starting nod in an effort to patch up their differences.

"I couldn't be happier for a guy than for Joe Sparma," he said.

Meanwhile, Orioles' Manager Earl Weaver congratulated the Tigers, but quickly issued a warning for next season.

"I think we have as much ability as Detroit," he said. "We'll be gunning for them next year."

The Red Sox' Ray Culp, a National League castoff, checked Baltimore on five hits and struck out 12 in winning a duel with 20-game winner Dave McNally.

Culp got all the runs he needed in the first inning when Carl Yastrzemski tripled in one run, then scored on a double by Ken Harrelson.

A two-run double by Frank Howard in the eighth inning broke a 2-2 tie and gave Washington its victory over Cleveland.

Chicago won the opener with Oakland on rookie Bill Melton's two-run homer, but the Athletics snapped a four-game losing streak in the nightcap on John "Blue Moon" Odom six-hitter.

Miami, Notre Dame, USC, Texas Picked

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — College football gourmets were treated to a tasty antipasto last week. Now it's time to pass the meat and potatoes.

If you're looking for gridiron goodies, there's a heaping platter on the fire for this weekend. May we suggest the Barbecued Cougar Ribs? The Grilled Gopher a l'Orange Juice? How about the specialty of the house . . . Gobbler under Crimson-tinted glass?

We're still trying to digest last week's appetizers . . . only 10 of 16 choices proved palatable . . . so we'll just take pot luck and hope for the best.

The picks:

Friday Night

Miami, Fla. over Northwestern: The Wildcats open a suicide schedule . . . Southern California, Purdue and Notre Dame are next . . . by tangling with Miami's "Mad Stork," 6-foot-8 defensive end Ted Hendricks. They'll probably be sorry they did.

Saturday Afternoon

Notre Dame over Oklahoma: Sooner stars Bob Warmack and Eddie Hinton will give the rebuilt Irish defense occasional fits, but ND's Terry Hanratty-Jim Seymour aerial act should keep the visitors on the wrong side of South Bend in this initial confrontation of Top Ten powerhouses.

Southern California over Minnesota: Last year's national champs don't expect a picnic in the North Woods . . . the Gophers are big enough to swallow "Orange Juice" Simpson in one gulp. But they'll have to catch him first.

Purdue over Virginia: No, Virginia . . . you won't find Santa Claus in Lafayette, Ind. Just Leroy Kyes . . . and he's liable to clog your chimney.

Texas over Houston: The Cougar juggernaut rolled up 54 points against Tulane last week. The Longhorns have thicker hides . . . and the home ground for this Lone Star shoot-out.

Florida over Air Force: One vote for home-brewed Gatorade and 100-proof Larry Smith to flatten the flyboys.

Oregon State over Iowa: Bill "Earthquake" Enyart, the Beavers' 230-pound fullback, could turn Iowa City into a disaster area.

Penn State over Navy: The Nittany Lions have too much nitty-gritty, starting with tight end Ted Kwalik, for Navy to chew.

Nebraska over Utah: After beating Wyoming's Cowboys to the draw last week, Nebraska is ready for the Indians . . . and these Utes are short of horses.

Indiana over Baylor: The Hoosiers' sensational 1967 sophomores are growing up fast . . . and quarterback Harry Gonso is loaded for Bear.

Michigan State over Syracuse: Duffy Daugherty says the rugged Syracuse defense might stop his Spartans cold. Could Duffy be giving the Orangemen a bit of blarney?

Saturday Night

Alabama over Virginia Tech: The Crimson Tide's 8-1-2 finish last season wasn't Bear Bryant's idea of a banner year. Goodbye Gobblers!

Texas A&M over Louisiana State: Edd Hargett, the Aggies' brilliant quarterback, is best in the tight spots. This figures to be one of them.

UCLA over Pittsburgh: Pitt shows promise after several bleak years. But promise will get the Panthers nowhere against the bruising Bruins.

Jacksonville Takes Third From Jets

By The Associated Press

Columbus guessed wrong twice in the 11th inning Tuesday night, and the Jacksonville Mets as a result have taker an almost insurmountable 3-0 lead over the Jets in their best-of-seven Governor's Cup International League playoff series.

Bib Pfeil opened the 11th for the Mets with a single but was forced at second by Tommy Reynolds, and the Jets then got the second out. Not wanting to pitch to Amos Otis, the Jets walked him intentionally.

Then, with two out and runners on first and second, the Jets drew in their outfield to pitch to line-drive-hitting Will Huckle. But Huckle crossed up the strategy with a single over the outfield that sent home Reynolds with the run that gave Jacksonville a 2-1 victory — its third in succession.

A two-base throwing error by Columbus third baseman Rich Hebner allowed Otis to score the tying run in the seventh inning after the Jets had gone in front.

Cronin Denies Umps Fired For Organizing

BOSTON (AP) — "How the hell do you judge an umpire?" Joe Cronin said. "They're just good or bad, that's all."

With that, the American League president took his stand that umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine were fired not because they tried to organize their fellow arbiters but because they were, in Cronin's word, "inefficient."

"Inefficient umpires who were never first class at any time," is what he said.

Salerno and Valentine disputed Cronin.

"There's no doubt that we were released from our jobs because of our organizing activities," Valentine said.

They said the reason they tried to organize the American League umps is that in the National League the umpires are organized and draw $3,000 to $7,750 more a year than their AL peers

Cronin maintained that he had "no knowledge at all" of any organizing activities. He said his umpire-scoting personnel, Cal Hubbard and Charlie Berry, former AL umpires, had "kicked around" the qualifications of Salerno and Valentine for some time before the two were given notices Monday.

"It takes a while to make a big league umpire," Cronin said, explaining his advisors concluded the fired duo didn't have it

A reporter asked Cronin Tuesday what qualifications Salerno and Valentine lacked. It was at that point the league prexy fired back that they were "just inefficient, that's all."

Cronin said he didn't have "any idea" how much National League umpires make. But he added he wouldn't be surprised that they make a little more than their American League counterparts, because of higher attendance in NL parks.

Gaylord Perry No-Hits Cardinals 1-0

Gibson Beaten By Hunt's Homer

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

After what Gaylord Perry did to Bob Gibson Tuesday night, what can Denny McLain do for an encore?

The St. Louis Cardinals, in their first game since clinching their second straight National League pennant, were supposed to be warming up for McLain and the Detroit Tigers in the World Series opener.

Instead, Perry did some cooling off. The 30-year-old righthander hurled the fourth no-hitter of the 1968 season—two in each league—stopping the Cards and shutout king Gibson 1-0 on Ron Hunt's first inning homer.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 7-5, the New oYrk Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2, Houston tripped Atlanta 5-1 and Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 4-2.

The 6-foot-4 Perry permitted only two baserunners and retired 18 batters in a row between walks to Mike Shannon in the second inning and Phil Gagliano in the eighth. He threw 101 pitches, getting 12 outs on grounders and striking out nine, including Curt Flood on a called third strike to end the game.

"Was it my best stuff:" Perry said in answer to a question. "You've got to say so when you pitch a no-hitter. The most important thing was my control. I was able to keep the ball down. I was hitting spots real well and my slider was really working.

"This was my biggest thrill. I started thinking about a no-hitter after the fifth inning. The last one I pitched was in high school in Williamston, N.C."

Perry said he bore down all the way, even though the Giants were eliminated from the pennant race Sunday.

"When your record is 14-14 you go out to win," he said.

Second baseman Hunt, the second batter in the first inning, hit Gibson's third pitch of the game over the left field fence. It was only his second home run of the season.

"It was an inside fast ball," said Gibson, 21-8.

Perry's closest call came in the sixth. Dal Maxvill led off with a smash up the middle, but Perry, falling off the mound toward first base, managed to snag it and threw him out.

"If that ball was to the third base side of the mound I wouldn't have had it," he said.

Other no-hitters this season was pitched by Cincinnati's George Culver against Philadelphia, Baltimore's Tom Phoebus against Boston and Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter against Minnesota. The last was a perfect game.

Bill Sudakis and Paul Popovich drove in two runs apiece and pitcher Claude Osteen delivered three key singles as the Dodgers won for the 11th time in 14 games.

Rookie Jim McAndrew pitched a two-hitter as the Mets edged Chicago on Ron Swoboda's steal of home in the fourth inning. Ed Charles hit a solo homer in the first for the Mets.

Mike Cuellar checked Atlanta on six hits for Houston. Felipe Alou homered in the ninth for Atlanta's run.

Gene Alley homered and doubled and scored twice to lead Pittsburgh past Philadelphia as the Pirates won their fourth straight game and moved to within a half-game of fifth-place Atlanta.

Stenerud, Post, Namath Lead AFL Statistics

NEW YORK (AP)—Jan Stenerud, Kansas City's Norwegian kicker, has jumped in front in the race for the American Football League scoring title he missed by just eight points as a rookie last year.

Stenerud, whose 108 points in 1967 were shy of George Blanda's 116, has scored 27 points, statistics showed today.

He's compiled that total on three extra points and eight of nine field goal attempts. Mac Haik of Houston is second with three touchdowns for 18 points.

Another second-year man, Dick Post of San Diego, leads the runners with 140 yards and an 8.8 average while a veteran running back, Houston's Sid Blanks, tops pass receivers with nine catches.

Joe Namath of New York is the leading passer, having completed 58.6 per cent of his passes for 302 yards. Pete Beathard of Houston has thrown the most touchdown passes, three.

Perhaps the most impressive figures are found in the punt return statistics. Rookie George Atkinson of Oakland returned five punts last Sunday for 205 yards and one touchdown while Noland Smith of Kansas City has run back five for 145 yards and a touchdown.

In all of last season, Denver's Floyd Little scored the only touchdown on a punt return.

Atkinson's Punt Return Betters 1967 AFL Mark

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — On only his first try, Oakland rookie George Atkinson did what it took the entire American Football League 332 tries to do last year.

What Atkinson did was run back a punt 86 yards for a touchdown and generally help wreck the Buffalo Bills and get their coach, Joe Collier, fired.

Including the touchdown return, the defensive back from Morris Brown ran back five punts for a league record 205 yards last Sunday and today was named The Associated Press' AFL defensive player of the week.

And he did all of this in his first regular season game.

It was on his first runback that Atkinson equalled the league's entire 1967 output. In 332 returns last year, Floyd Little of Denver scored the only touchdown, doing it on a 72-yard romp.

The rookie's 86-yard scoring run started the defending champion Raiders on the way to a 48-6 triumph over the Bills. His second return, of 52 yards, gave the Raiders the ball at the Buffalo 9, setting up another TD.

It might take a little longer to determine, but Atkinson's performance certainly gave at least some credence to a statement by Al Davis that the youngster "could be the best player we ever signed."

Davis, the man who runs the Raiders, just might be going a little overboard, but there's no doubt that the seventh-round draft choice is one of the most aggressive Raiders.

Curiously enough, on the same day Atkinson equalled the 1967 total of one touchdown, Kansas City's Noland Smith also returned a punt for a touchdown. His 80-yard jaunt almost propelled the Chiefs past New York and earned him recognition.

Also considered for the honor were Houston's Ken Houston, who raced 66 yards with an intercepted pass for a TD, and John Elliott, a defensive tackle who plagued the Chiefs' backs all day in New York's victory. Elliott made four unassisted tackles and helped in nine more.

Instead, Perry did some cooling off. The 30-year-old right-hander hurled the fourth no-hitter of the 1968 season—two in each league—stopping the Cards and shutout king Gibson 1-0 on Ron Hunt's first inning homer.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 7-5, the New oYrk Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2, Houston tripped Atlanta 5-1 and Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 4-2.

The 6-foot-4 Perry permitted only two baserunners and retired 18 batters in a row between walks to Mike Shannon in the second inning and Phil Gagliano in the eighth. He threw 101 pitches, getting 12 outs on grounders and striking out nine, including Curt Flood on a called third strike to end the game.

"Was it my best stuff:" Perry said in answer to a question. "You've got to say so when you pitch a no-hitter. The most important thing was my control. I was able to keep the ball down. I was hitting spots real well and my slider was really working.

"This was my biggest thrill. I started thinking about a no-hitter after the fifth inning. The last one I pitched was in high school in Williamston, N.C."

Perry said he bore down all the way, even though the Giants were eliminated from the pennant race Sunday.

"When your record is 14-14 you go out to win," he said.

Second baseman Hunt, the second batter in the first inning, hit Gibson's third pitch of the game over the left field fence. It was only his second home run of the season.

"It was an inside fast ball," said Gibson, 21-8.

Perry's closest call came in the sixth. Dal Maxvill led off with a smash up the middle, but Perry, falling off the mound toward first base, managed to snag it and threw him out.

"If that ball was to the third base side of the mound I wouldn't have had it," he said.

Other no-hitters this season was pitched by Cincinnati's George Culver against Philadelphia, Baltimore's Tom Phoebus against Boston and Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter against Minnesota. The last was a perfect game.

Bill Sudakis and Paul Popovich drove in two runs apiece and pitcher Claude Osteen delivered three key singles as the Dodgers won for the 11th time in 14 games.

Rookie Jim McAndrew pitched a two-hitter as the Mets edged Chicago on Ron Swoboda's steal of home in the fourth inning. Ed Charles hit a solo homer in the first for the Mets.

Mike Cuellar checked Atlanta on six hits for Houston. Felipe Alou homered in the ninth for Atlanta's run.

Gene Alley homered and doubled and scored twice to lead Pittsburgh past Philadelphia as the Pirates won their fourth straight game and moved to within a half-game of fifth-place Atlanta.

Stenerud, Post, Namath Lead AFL Statistics

NEW YORK (AP)—Jan Stenerud, Kansas City's Norwegian kicker, has jumped in front in the race for the American Football League scoring title he missed by just eight points as a rookie last year.

Stenerud, whose 108 points in 1967 were shy of George Blanda's 116, has scored 27 points, statistics showed today.

He's compiled that total on three extra points and eight of nine field goal attempts. Mac Haik of Houston is second with three touchdowns for 18 points.

Another second-year man, Dick Post of San Diego, leads the runners with 140 yards and an 8.8 average while a veteran running back, Houston's Sid Blanks, tops pass receivers with nine catches.

Joe Namath of New York is the leading passer, having completed 58.6 per cent of his passes for 302 yards. Pete Beathard of Houston has thrown the most touchdown passes, three.

Perhaps the most impressive figures are found in the punt return statistics. Rookie George Atkinson of Oakland returned five punts last Sunday for 205 yards and one touchdown while Noland Smith of Kansas City has run back five for 145 yards and a touchdown.

In all of last season, Denver's Floyd Little scored the only touchdown on a punt return.

Atkinson's Punt Return Betters 1967 AFL Mark

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — On only his first try, Oakland rookie George Atkinson did what it took the entire American Football League 332 tries to do last year.

What Atkinson did was run back a punt 86 yards for a touchdown and generally help wreck the Buffalo Bills and get their coach, Joe Collier, fired.

Including the touchdown return, the defensive back from Morris Brown ran back five punts for a league record 205 yards last Sunday and today was named The Associated Press' AFL defensive player of the week.

And he did all of this in his first regular season game.

It was on his first runback that Atkinson equalled the league's entire 1967 output. In 332 returns last year, Floyd Little of Denver scored the only touchdown, doing it on a 72-yard romp.

The rookie's 86-yard scoring run started the defending champion Raiders on the way to a 48-6 triumph over the Bills. His second return, of 52 yards, gave the Raiders the ball at the Buffalo 9, setting up another TD.

It might take a little longer to determine, but Atkinson's performance certainly gave at least some credence to a statement by Al Davis that the youngster "could be the best player we ever signed."

Davis, the man who runs the Raiders, just might be going a little overboard, but there's no doubt that the seventh-round draft choice is one of the most aggressive Raiders.

Curiously enough, on the same day Atkinson equalled the 1967 total of one touchdown, Kansas City's Noland Smith also returned a punt for a touchdown. His 80-yard jaunt almost propelled the Chiefs past New York and earned him recognition.

Also considered for the honor were Houston's Ken Houston, who raced 66 yards with an intercepted pass for a TD, and John Elliott, a defensive tackle who plagued the Chiefs' backs all day in New York's victory. Elliott made four unassisted tackles and helped in nine more.

Well-Known Tracksters Fail To Make Olympics

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — It isn't hard to tell the winners from the losers at this mountain gambling resort on the Nevada border. It's all a question of destination.

The winners are staying and will be back for more. The losers are leaving, sadder but wiser.

For the next month, plenty will be said about the winners in the U.S. men's Olympic track and field trials that were just completed here.

Herewith, therefore, is a last look at some of the losers:

—In 1964, a swarthy young Marine of Indian ancestry, provided the United States with its most thrilling victory at the Olympic Games in Tokyo, winning the 10,000 meters.

Today Billy Mills is just another runner who couldn't make the team. Troubled repeatedly by a back injury, Mills struggled through the gruelling 10,000 in the trials here and finished fourth.

—When he was 17 and even skinnier than he is now, Gerry Lindgren beat the Russians at 10,000 meters in a duel meet. Since then he won the collegiate three-mile, six-mile, 5,000-meter, and 10,000-meter crowns a total of six times.

But after setting an American record at 5,000 meters this spring, Lindgren injured an Achilles tendon and was never quite right thereafter. He finished fifth in the 10,000 here—and then failed in a desperate attempt to take third in the 5,000.

—For a couple of years Richmond Flowers was a good second-place hurdler. Suddenly his hard work started to pay off. He began to win and felt sure he would break the world record at 110-meters.

Then his knee gave out and for 10 agonizing weeks he had to stay off the track. By the time the knee had healed Flowers had missed too much practice and, though he made it to the finals, he finished fifth and off the Olympic team.

—At the indoor collegiate championships in 1967, Dave Patrick had his finest moment. He beat Jim Ryun at 880 yards and set a world indoor record that still stands.

Patrick lost to Ryun at a mile indoors this year, the Kansas star running 3:57.5. But at the beginning of the outdoor season, Patrick ran a 3:56.8 mile and seemed ready to challenge for the 1,500 title here.

Then he appeared to run himself out in the semifinal of the race, winning in a time that may have been too good. In the final, the Villanovan's finishing kick deserted him. He finished fourth and Ryun was an easy winner.

—Dick Railsback cleared 17-0 in the pole vault, once an impossible height, and good enough to get John Pennel and Casey Carrigan on the Olympic team.

But Pennel and Carrigan made it on their first vaults. Railsback made it on his second and didn't make the squad.

—Long jumper Phil Shinnick was on the 1964 Olympic team, and seemed in good form in the trials. But Charlie Mays hit 26-9¼ and took the spot away from Shinnick.

Two others are Alliance residents — Walter Headley '37, Marlington High School athletic director, and Dr. George M. Wilcoxon '28, physician and founding Fellow of the American College of Gynecologists.

The fifth living honoree is Edmund F. Marlowe '17, retired credit manager of the Hoover Co., North Canton.

The players underwent physicals Tuesday and double workouts are slated for today, Thursday and Friday.

Rookies are No. 1 draft selection Don Smith of Iowa State; Fred Foster of Miami (Ohio); Colorado's Pat Frink; Cincinnati's John Howard; Calvin Martin of Texas Southern; Doug Sims of Kent State; and Jim Kissane of Boston College.

The Royals will scrimmage the Spanish Olympic Team Friday at Cincinnati Gardens and tip off pre-season exhibition action next Tuesday against the new Milwaukee Bucks at Milwaukee.

Cowboys, Vikings Top NFL Offenses

NEW YORK (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys and Minnesota Vikings shape up as the offensive powerhouses of the National Football League after the first week of play.

Minnesota scored 47 points against Atlanta, a total they didn't reach last year until half way through their fourth regular season game.

Cleveland showed the best opening day defense, holding the New Orleans Saints to 208 yards but once again Minnesota was in second place, yielding only 234 yards and but seven points to the Atlanta Falcons.

The Cowboys gave up the least yardage on the ground, 68 in their opener, and St. Louis shut down on the Los Angeles Rams' air game, permitting only 84 yards and nine completions in 22 attempts.

Old Bucket Race Today At Delaware

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The preliminaries continue as Thursday's 23rd renewal of the Little Brown Jug draws near and up for grabs today was the Old Oaken Bucket.

Snow Speed, the Castleton Farm star was the favorite in the seven-horse field for the $19,520 Bucket, which returned to the Grand Circuit program here after an absence of 10 years.

Snow Speed has earned $88,444 for the current campaign and has been chasing world champion Nevele Pride over the Grand Circuit all summer.

In 18 starts, Snow Speed has won twice, finished second 10 times—six to the great Nevele Pride—and third twice.

Because they are thick-skinned animals, wriggling in mud helps hogs to keep cool and removes extra oil on their skins.

Well-Known Tracksters Fail To Make Olympics

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — It isn't hard to tell the winners from the losers at this mountain gambling resort on the Nevada border. It's all a question of destination.

The winners are staying and will be back for more. The losers are leaving, sadder but wiser.

For the next month, plenty will be said about the winners in the U.S. men's Olympic track and field trials that were just completed here.

Herewith, therefore, is a last look at some of the losers:

—In 1964, a swarthy young Marine of Indian ancestry, provided the United States with its most thrilling victory at the Olympic Games in Tokyo, winning the 10,000 meters.

Today Billy Mills is just another runner who couldn't make the team. Troubled repeatedly by a back injury, Mills struggled through the gruelling 10,000 in the trials here and finished fourth.

—When he was 17 and even skinnier than he is now, Gerry Lindgren beat the Russians at 10,000 meters in a duel meet. Since then he won the collegiate three-mile, six-mile, 5,000-meter, and 10,000-meter crowns a total of six times.

But after setting an American record at 5,000 meters this spring, Lindgren injured an Achilles tendon and was never quite right thereafter. He finished fifth in the 10,000 here—and then failed in a desperate attempt to take third in the 5,000.

—For a couple of years Richmond Flowers was a good second-place hurdler. Suddenly his hard work started to pay off. He began to win and felt sure he would break the world record at 110-meters.

Then his knee gave out and for 10 agonizing weeks he had to stay off the track. By the time the knee had healed Flowers had missed too much practice and, though he made it to the finals, he finished fifth and off the Olympic team.

—At the indoor collegiate championships in 1967, Dave Patrick had his finest moment. He beat Jim Ryun at 880 yards and set a world indoor record that still stands.

Patrick lost to Ryun at a mile indoors this year, the Kansas star running 3:57.5. But at the beginning of the outdoor season, Patrick ran a 3:56.8 mile and seemed ready to challenge for the 1,500 title here.

Then he appeared to run himself out in the semifinal of the race, winning in a time that may have been too good. In the final, the Villanovan's finishing kick deserted him. He finished fourth and Ryun was an easy winner.

—Dick Railsback cleared 17-0 in the pole vault, once an impossible height, and good enough to get John Pennel and Casey Carrigan on the Olympic team.

But Pennel and Carrigan made it on their first vaults. Railsback made it on his second and didn't make the squad.

All players have signed 1968 contracts. Veterans reporting to Coach Ed Juker are Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas, Connie Dierking, Adrian Smith, Tom Van Arsdale and Bill Dinwiddie.

Rookies are No. 1 draft selection Don Smith of Iowa State; Fred Foster of Miami (Ohio); Colorado's Pat Frink; Cincinnati's John Howard; Calvin Martin of Texas Southern; Doug Sims of Kent State; and Jim Kissane of Boston College.

The Royals will scrimmage the Spanish Olympic Team Friday at Cincinnati Gardens and tip off pre-season exhibition action next Tuesday against the new Milwaukee Bucks at Milwaukee.

Cowboys, Vikings Top NFL Offenses

NEW YORK (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys and Minnesota Vikings shape up as the offensive powerhouses of the National Football League after the first week of play.

Dallas, with Don Meredith at the controls for only a bit more than half of the game, rolled up total yardage of 542 yards on the Detroit Lions who pride themselves on a tight defense.

Minnesota scored 47 points against Atlanta, a total they didn't reach last year until half way through their fourth regular season game.

Cleveland showed the best opening day defense, holding the New Orleans Saints to 208 yards but once again Minnesota was in second place, yielding only 234 yards and but seven points to the Atlanta Falcons.

The Cowboys gave up the least yardage on the ground, 68 in their opener, and St. Louis shut down on the Los Angeles Rams' air game, permitting only 84 yards and nine completions in 22 attempts.

Old Bucket Race Today At Delaware

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The preliminaries continue as Thursday's 23rd renewal of the Little Brown Jug draws near and up for grabs today was the Old Oaken Bucket.

Snow Speed, the Castleton Farm star was the favorite in the seven-horse field for the $19,520 Bucket, which returned to the Grand Circuit program here after an absence of 10 years.

Snow Speed has earned $88,444 for the current campaign and has been chasing world champion Nevele Pride over the Grand Circuit all summer.

In 18 starts, Snow Speed has won twice, finished second 10 times—six to the great Nevele Pride—and third twice.

Because they are thick-skinned animals, wriggling in mud helps hogs to keep cool and removes extra oil on their skins.

ANN LANDERS

Problem: 'Brother Brat'

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 12-year-old girl who has a problem in the form of a brother. I'll be standing there minding my own business and my 6-year-old brother Normie will come up and start making a pest of himself.

Last night after I told him 8 or 10 times to leave me alone he still pestered me, so I gave him a light tap on the head. Normie screamed like I was killing him. He ran to my mother and said, "Ruthie hit me!"

My mother came at me like I was a monster and called me a terrible kid. She said, "Just for that you can't have any dessert or watch TV and you have to go straight to bed right after supper."

Now that my rat-fink brother knows how to get me into trouble I'm helpless. I can't leave home until I'm 18 which means I'm doomed to put up with this torture for six more years. Please tell me what to do. — SUFFERING GIRL.

Dear Girl: Pray for a new baby brother. Normie will then be so busy defending himself against HIS brother that he'll leave you alone. When your mother reads this she'll probably tell me to drop dead.

Workless Wonder

Dear Ann: My wife hates housework and anyone who steps inside our place knows it immediately. We have had some arguments over this and I always seem to lose. Liz tells me that any dumbbell can clean a house and she would rather spend her time on more creative things, like sewing or painting or pruning the hedges.

Once in awhile you print something in your column about sloppy housekeepers. When you do I hand the paper to Liz and ask her if she recognizes anyone she knows. Yesterday you published such a letter and she got mad and yelled, "Ann Landers can tell women to scrub floors and sweat over the kitchen stove because SHE doesn't have to do it! I'll bet that dame has hired help all over the place.

Do you have the courage to print this letter and your answer? — MR. OHIO

Dear Mr.: Your wife is right. I don't do housework, but I did plenty of it for the first 10 years of my marriage. And I didn't hate it or feel that it was beneath my dignity. My house looked fairly presentable and so did my husband's shirts, which I ironed. And nobody ever died from my cooking. Any more questions?

Rescue Squad

Dear Ann: I'm getting plenty fed up with reading that worn-out line in your column — "When you marry a divorced man you'l better be prepared to put up with the whole pack — his kids, his ex-wife, her relatives, old friends — bla bla" and more stuff and nonsense.

I married a divorced man and I made it plain in advance that I was not going to be bothered with any of the aforementioned kooks. My husband's ex-wife is a religious fanatic who belts down martinis with one hand and reads the New Testament with the other.

Her children look just like her and they act like her, too. Sometimes I think they do not even belong to my husband.

Kids belong with their mother, even if she IS crazy and I say let her paddle her own canoe. — NO TIES.

Dear No: That canoe has your husband's children in it — even if they don't look like him. If the waters get choppy, and it sounds as if they might, the children are going to need rescuing from time to time and if your husband is halfway decent he'll do it. So get ready, Madame.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Board Explains Auction Sale Of Glenmoor School

A group of Glenmoor residents expressed disappointment to the East Liverpool School District board of education over the sale of the former Glenmoor School for which a church had submitted a bid.

The Rev. Robert Palisin of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church questioned the board about the transaction, saying his group believed the buildings would be sold for cash the night the bids were opened.

He asked about the funds supplied by Douglass Capehart, whose offer the board accepted.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk, said the sale was completed Monday and Capehart had paid in full. She explained the terms cash meant the day the sale was completed and a deed supplied to the bidder.

Rev. Palisin said he was sorry his group had not understood this, because had they known, the church members could have bid $6,900 or more.

He asked if the church could utilize any play equipment Capehart does not want. Supt. Paul Blair said the board of education has two months in which to remove the contents of the building and grounds, and would act on the request.

Ohio Red Party Eyes Presidential Aspirant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Communist party is investigating the possibility of fielding a candidate in the November presidential election, Sec. of State Ted W. Brown said Monday.

Brown said he had received a letter from Philip Bart of Cleveland Heights, the group's secretary, asking a number of questions concerning the placing of a presidential slate on the ballot.

He said he had told the Communist leader that the names of 26 electors supporting a candidate had to be filed at his office by Oct. 15, if write-in votes for that candidate were to be counted.

A federal court decision favoring third party candidate George C. Wallace opened the way for write-in candidates on the Ohio ballot.

Gun Used In Crime Of Violence

Proposal In Gun Control Bill Urges Life In Pen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anybody using a gun in a federal crime of violence would face the possibility of life in prison under an amendment tacked onto the firearms control bill now moving toward a vote in the Senate.

This was adopted Tuesday prior to the opening of debate today on the most controversial issue over the control bill: whether to amend it to require the registration of all firearms and the licensing of their owners.

The registration proposal by Maryland Democrat Joseph Tydings was rejected by the House and the Senate Judiciary Committee earlier in the year when those bodies generally limited the measure to barring the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

The life sentence would be possible for people convicted of carrying a gun while committing such crimes as rape, arson, murder, kidnaping, burglary, theft, racketeering and extortion in a federal jurisdiction.

Assassination of a president also was specified.

The amendment was proposed by Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., and was passed by voice vote after Sen. Thomas J. Dodd., D-Conn., said he knew of no opposition.

Another amendment, also adopted Tuesday by voice vote, would prohibit the confiscation by a government agency of any legally held and used firearm.

Sen. Daniel Brewster, D-Md., said there was nothing in the current bill that would allow confiscations but there is widespread concern among gun owners that stricter firearms controls could lead to that.

The Senate also accepted a provision making an exception to an over-all ban on over-the-counter sales of rifles and shotguns to residents of another state.

The exception, written into the bill by the Senate Judiciary Committee, permits sales to residents of adjoining states if they comply with the laws of both states.

Rejected 45 to 42 was an amendment by Dodd to tighten a requirement for dealers.

It would have required a dealer to have an actual business location, as distinguished from someone who handles sales from his home.

THE COSTLIEST project is the conversion of the boilers, from coal to gas, at $133,841.

The breakdown follows: Cove, $31,357; Chester, $133,841; Weirton Heights, $20,363; Wells Junior High, $13,432; Dunbar, $16,669, and Liberty, $20,456.

The projects were broken down into four segments, general, mechanical, electrical and control systems, with separate bids on each. Successful low bidders in each of the phases are: General construction, $21,124, H. W. Trushel Construction Co. of Weirton; mechanical, $83,250, J. T. Owens, Inc., of Wheeling; electrical, $14,499, Tri-State Electric, Steubenville, and temperature controls, $14,968, Johnson Service Co., Pittsburgh.

With the exception of Wells Junior high school, the bids received includes all work necessary to convert the heating plants from coal to gas, installation of incinerators plus complete renovation of the boiler rooms. It was reported the conversion will decrease the maintenance costs being expended on the present plants and should be effective for the next two decades.

At Wells Junior High the only work to be done is a new conversion burner in one boiler, a new gas service and a meter house, a combustion air louvre, wiring for the new burner and the repair of a chimney damaged by lightning.

THE BOARD approved the paving of 0.2 mile of access road at Oak Glen with concrete at a cost of $32,220. This is $8,500 more than the cost of asphalt paving, but it was pointed out the concrete paving will be more durable and requires less repair.

The low bidder on the project is Jarvis, Downing and Emch, Inc., of Wheeling.

The road will be 20 feet wide with 6-inch-thick paving and will have 10 feet of slag berm. Two additional drainage culverts will be placed under the existing gravel road, with catch basins and a concrete gutter along the roadside. An electrical conduit is to be poured into the side of the gutter, with junction boxes every 100 feet, to be used in the future for lighting poles.

It was estimated that the drainage culverts, gutters and catch basin work would consume half the bid price.

Gun Used In Crime Of Violence

Proposal In Gun Control Bill Urges Life In Pen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anybody using a gun in a federal crime of violence would face the possibility of life in prison under an amendment tacked onto the firearms control bill now moving toward a vote in the Senate.

This was adopted Tuesday prior to the opening of debate today on the most controversial issue over the control bill: whether to amend it to require the registration of all firearms and the licensing of their owners.

The registration proposal by Maryland Democrat Joseph Tydings was rejected by the House and the Senate Judiciary Committee earlier in the year when those bodies generally limited the measure to barring the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

The life sentence would be possible for people convicted of carrying a gun while committing such crimes as rape, arson, murder, kidnaping, burglary, theft, racketeering and extortion in a federal jurisdiction.

Assassination of a president also was specified.

The amendment was proposed by Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., and was passed by voice vote after Sen. Thomas J. Dodd., D-Conn., said he knew of no opposition.

Another amendment, also adopted Tuesday by voice vote, would prohibit the confiscation by a government agency of any legally held and used firearm.

Sen. Daniel Brewster, D-Md., said there was nothing in the current bill that would allow confiscations but there is widespread concern among gun owners that stricter firearms controls could lead to that.

The Senate also accepted a provision making an exception to an over-all ban on over-the-counter sales of rifles and shotguns to residents of another state.

The exception, written into the bill by the Senate Judiciary Committee, permits sales to residents of adjoining states if they comply with the laws of both states.

Rejected 45 to 42 was an amendment by Dodd to tighten a requirement for dealers.

It would have required a dealer to have an actual business location, as distinguished from someone who handles sales from his home.

Edison Official Bares Pollution Control Plan

NEW CUMBERLAND—Steps to combat the problem were outlined by D. W. Wooldridge, general supervisor of production and transmission at the Ohio Edison plant in Toronto, when he met Tuesday night with the New Cumberland Anti-Air Pollution organization.

Wooldridge reported that since he met with the committee in July 1966 a study was made at the plant with the use of monitoring devices to determine the amount of pollution.

He said the results were given to engineers to design control facilities for the plant. The engineers feel they can install electro-static air pollution control devices on the newer stacks and they will be 99 per cent effective, he said.

Wooldridge said plans were made to erect a new stack to disperse sulphur dioxide, which, when completed, will cut down the pollution by 75 to 80 per cent. The date of completion will be in mid-1970.

Several questions were asked about the Samos plant at Empire. Wooldridge explained that the first four stacks have built-in air pollution devices that collect 97 per cent of it.

Questions also were asked about sulphur dioxide gas escaping into the air. Wooldridge said no plans had been made at present to control it, but there appears only one solution — build a taller stack.

James Duff, a representative from the West Virginia Air Pollution Control committee, also addressed the group.

Sam Kusic, commissioner of industry of the West Virginia air pollution control, also spoke.

Committee members expressed appreciation to Wooldridge for attending the meeting and said they intend to work with federal and state agencies until the problem is corrected. They informed Wooldrige that if the problem becomes as unbearable as it did this summer, they again plan to picket the Toronto plant.

The next meeting will be Tuesday.

How Can I?

Q.—How can I do a good polishing job on chrome appliances?

A.—With dry baking soda and a soft cloth. To remove rust spots, rub with dampened aluminum foil, and wipe with a dry cloth. This renews the shine beautifully. You can use aluminum foil from a household roll, or ven from a cigarette package.

Vance Rejects Thant Call To Halt Bombing

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Cyrus Vance today brushed aside U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's latest call for a halt to all American bombing of North Vietnam.

Entering the 22nd session of the U.S.-North Vietnamese peace talks, Vance told newsmen: "Mr. U Thant knows our position very well. Our position is that we are prepared to stop the bombing when we have reason to believe that the North Vietnamese seriously intend to move with us to de-escalate the fighting and to move toward peace."

Thant urged President Johnson's administration Monday to halt the bombing.

Edison Official Bares Pollution Control Plan

NEW CUMBERLAND—Steps to combat the problem were outlined by D. W. Wooldridge, general supervisor of production and transmission at the Ohio Edison plant in Toronto, when he met Tuesday night with the New Cumberland Anti-Air Pollution organization.

Wooldridge reported that since he met with the committee in July 1966 a study was made at the plant with the use of monitoring devices to determine the amount of pollution.

He said the results were given to engineers to design control facilities for the plant. The engineers feel they can install electro-static air pollution control devices on the newer stacks and they will be 99 per cent effective, he said.

Wooldridge said plans were made to erect a new stack to disperse sulphur dioxide, which, when completed, will cut down the pollution by 75 to 80 per cent. The date of completion will be in mid-1970.

Several questions were asked about the Samos plant at Empire. Wooldridge explained that the first four stacks have built-in air pollution devices that collect 97 per cent of it.

Questions also were asked about sulphur dioxide gas escaping into the air. Wooldridge said no plans had been made at present to control it, but there appears only one solution — build a taller stack.

James Duff, a representative from the West Virginia Air Pollution Control committee, also addressed the group.

Sam Kusic, commissioner of industry of the West Virginia air pollution control, also spoke.

Committee members expressed appreciation to Wooldridge for attending the meeting and said they intend to work with federal and state agencies until the problem is corrected. They informed Wooldrige that if the problem becomes as unbearable as it did this summer, they again plan to picket the Toronto plant.

The next meeting will be Tuesday.

How Can I?

Q.—How can I do a good polishing job on chrome appliances?

A.—With dry baking soda and a soft cloth. To remove rust spots, rub with dampened aluminum foil, and wipe with a dry cloth. This renews the shine beautifully. You can use aluminum foil from a household roll, or ven from a cigarette package.

Vance Rejects Thant Call To Halt Bombing

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Cyrus Vance today brushed aside U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's latest call for a halt to all American bombing of North Vietnam.

Entering the 22nd session of the U.S.-North Vietnamese peace talks, Vance told newsmen: "Mr. U Thant knows our position very well. Our position is that we are prepared to stop the bombing when we have reason to believe that the North Vietnamese seriously intend to move with us to de-escalate the fighting and to move toward peace."

Thant urged President Johnson's administration Monday to halt the bombing.

Early Payment Of Taxes Asked In School Needs

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mahoning County auditor Steve Olenick said Tuesday he had asked major steel companies in the county to pay personal property taxes a month early to keep Youngstown schools running through October.

Olenick said the move was made to help the Youngstown Board of Education which is in urgent need of revenues to meet commitments.

Earlier this month the board approved a salary increase and paid hospitalization program for teachers, averting a threatened boycott of classes when schools opened Sept. 4.

However, the board also said it would have to ask the county common pleas court to rule whether it could approve an increase for teachers without having the money to back them up.

The board also warned that unless voters approve a 12-mill levy Nov. 5 the school year may end Dec. 1.

Man Given Pen Term For Embezzlement

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 29 - year - old Cleveland man who admitted embezzling $602,000 from the Union Commerce Bank was sentenced Tuesday to five years in the federal penitentiary.

U.S. District Court Judge Thomas D. Lambros, however, ordered that Anthony M. Arden serve only six months of his sentence in prison and the rest on probation.

Arden also was ordered to repay the bank $152,307 he still owes.

Personalities In The News

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Rose Bucher has received the first letter from her husband since the U.S. intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo which he commanded was seized by North Korea.

The letter from Lt. Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher was dated Aug. 28—240 days after the seizure—Mrs. Bucher said Tuesday.

A family friend said it contained no mention of possible release for the Pueblo crew.

"It was the sort of letter you'd write to your spouse if it were being read by everyone else," he said. It was relatively free of propaganda, said Mrs. Bucher, and of a personal nature.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Sarah Short says her students rarely cut her home economics courses at Syracuse University. Small wonder.

Tuesday, for example, Mrs. Short, her blonde hair trailing below her shoulders, false gold eyebrows glittering in the sunlight, wearing sandals, light blue slacks, a silver Nehru jacket and love beads, roared into classroom on a motorcycle.

The 50 wide-eyed students were entranced as the mother of three zipped down the sloping stairway leading to the lectern in the school of journalism's electronic classroom, where her class was held.

After she distributed bubble gum to her class, psychedelic style films were projected simultaneously on three walls in the room, 11 projectors beamed slides to the ceiling, and two overhead projectors bathed the room in brilliant color patterns.

"This is a required course," she told a reporter, "so I have to keep students from cutting classes.

"And you know, they never do cut my classes, because they don't want to miss out on any of it."

NEW YORK (AP) — Trumpeter Louis Armstrong has been hospitalized for what his physician believes is phlebitis, agent Joe Glaser reported.

The agent said the 68-year-old "Satchmo" was taken to a hospital Tuesday for tests after his legs swelled.

Midland CAC Group Hears Clinic Official

Thirty - five attended the first fall meeting of the Community Action Committee Monday at the Midland Brough building.

John Brackett, assistant director of the Alcoholic Clinic at Youngstown Hospital, was guest speaker.

The group discussed the various programs initiated in the area. Tentative plans call for a sewing class to be started in the near future.

The date for the October meeting will be announced.

Broad Probe Launched In U.S. Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential panel set up in Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's dying hours opens formal hearings today in its sweeping probe of violence in America.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover were listed as leadoff witnesses at the closed-door session in the same building where the assassinated New York senator had his Capitol Hill offices.

Eight weeks of hearings have been scheduled by the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence to hear testimony and task force reports on such subjects as firearms, disorderly demonstrations, law enforcement and the influence of the news media.

The panel plans a preliminary report to President Johnson before he leaves the White House in January. Its final report is due next June.

A commission aide said the panel has had problems recruiting enough top-notch personnel for the study because the commission will go out of existence after a year.

Johnson created the 13-member commission June 5 as Kennedy lay dying in Los Angeles where he was shot as he celebrated his California Democratic primary election triumph.

Unlike the Warren Commission that investigated the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the new panel will not limit itself to the specific slaying but will delve instead into a wide area of violence and its causes.

The commission is headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, 69, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and retired president of Johns Hopkins University.

The commission conducted a ground - laying session in July which was closed to the public and newsmen but said later sessions might be open.

The panel will take up the specific subject of assassinations, presumably including the slayings of Sen. Kennedy and civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., at its Oct. 2-3 session.

The commission members in addition to Eisenhower are Roman Catholic Archbishop Terence J. Cooke of New York, attorney Labert Jenner of Chicago, former Ambassador Patricia Harris, philosopher Eric Hoffer; Sens. Philip Hart, D-Mich., and Roman Hruska, R-Neb.; Reps. Hale Boggs, D-La., and William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, and federal Judge Leon Higginbotham.

Personalities In The News

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Rose Bucher has received the first letter from her husband since the U.S. intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo which he commanded was seized by North Korea.

The letter from Lt. Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher was dated Aug. 28—240 days after the seizure—Mrs. Bucher said Tuesday.

A family friend said it contained no mention of possible release for the Pueblo crew.

"It was the sort of letter you'd write to your spouse if it were being read by everyone else," he said. It was relatively free of propaganda, said Mrs. Bucher, and of a personal nature.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Sarah Short says her students rarely cut her home economics courses at Syracuse University. Small wonder.

Tuesday, for example, Mrs. Short, her blonde hair trailing below her shoulders, false gold eyebrows glittering in the sunlight, wearing sandals, light blue slacks, a silver Nehru jacket and love beads, roared into classroom on a motorcycle.

The 50 wide-eyed students were entranced as the mother of three zipped down the sloping stairway leading to the lectern in the school of journalism's electronic classroom, where her class was held.

After she distributed bubble gum to her class, psychedelic style films were projected simultaneously on three walls in the room, 11 projectors beamed slides to the ceiling, and two overhead projectors bathed the room in brilliant color patterns.

"This is a required course," she told a reporter, "so I have to keep students from cutting classes.

"And you know, they never do cut my classes, because they don't want to miss out on any of it."

NEW YORK (AP) — Trumpeter Louis Armstrong has been hospitalized for what his physician believes is phlebitis, agent Joe Glaser reported.

The agent said the 68-year-old "Satchmo" was taken to a hospital Tuesday for tests after his legs swelled.

Midland CAC Group Hears Clinic Official

Thirty - five attended the first fall meeting of the Community Action Committee Monday at the Midland Brough building.

John Brackett, assistant director of the Alcoholic Clinic at Youngstown Hospital, was guest speaker.

The group discussed the various programs initiated in the area. Tentative plans call for a sewing class to be started in the near future.

The date for the October meeting will be announced.

Broad Probe Launched In U.S. Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential panel set up in Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's dying hours opens formal hearings today in its sweeping probe of violence in America.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover were listed as leadoff witnesses at the closed-door session in the same building where the assassinated New York senator had his Capitol Hill offices.

Eight weeks of hearings have been scheduled by the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence to hear testimony and task force reports on such subjects as firearms, disorderly demonstrations, law enforcement and the influence of the news media.

The panel plans a preliminary report to President Johnson before he leaves the White House in January. Its final report is due next June.

A commission aide said the panel has had problems recruiting enough top-notch personnel for the study because the commission will go out of existence after a year.

Johnson created the 13-member commission June 5 as Kennedy lay dying in Los Angeles where he was shot as he celebrated his California Democratic primary election triumph.

Unlike the Warren Commission that investigated the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the new panel will not limit itself to the specific slaying but will delve instead into a wide area of violence and its causes.

The commission is headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, 69, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and retired president of Johns Hopkins University.

The commission conducted a ground - laying session in July which was closed to the public and newsmen but said later sessions might be open.

The panel will take up the specific subject of assassinations, presumably including the slayings of Sen. Kennedy and civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., at its Oct. 2-3 session.

The commission members in addition to Eisenhower are Roman Catholic Archbishop Terence J. Cooke of New York, attorney Labert Jenner of Chicago, former Ambassador Patricia Harris, philosopher Eric Hoffer; Sens. Philip Hart, D-Mich., and Roman Hruska, R-Neb.; Reps. Hale Boggs, D-La., and William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, and federal Judge Leon Higginbotham.

LBJ Keeps Options Open For Viet Allies Summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is keeping his options open for a summit meeting of the Vietnam war allies this fall, possibly in mid-October.

Diplomatic sources say there are strong hints the President would like to fulfill the promise of the last Honolulu communique for another summit meeting before the end of this year.

A speedup of preparations for the meeting could be quickly carried out once the decision is reached, sources said.

Johnson's last meeting with South Vietnam's leaders was in July at Honolulu.

Before that session White House aides had said that it was being held in keeping with a Johnson policy to hold a summit on the Vietnam war every six months.

One question puzzling the political experts here is the effect such a meeting would have on the presidential campaign of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. U.S. officials see no likelihood Johnson will backtrack from the strong positions he took in two recent speeches when he said there would be no withdrawal of troops along the dimilitarized zone that divides North and South Vietnam and indicated there would be no letup in the limited bombing of the North.

According to one view, the question is how much would be gained in reassuring U.S. allies about the future course of American policy in the Far East and how much would be lost at home by such assurances.

At the same time, North Vietnam appears to be hardening its negotiating position in Paris, according to analysts here.

The demand that the United States recognize and negotiate with the National Liberation Front on matters dealing with the war in the South has been emphasized repeatedly in recent weeks by North Vietnam Premier Pham Van Dong and Nguyen Thanh Le, the politburo adviser at the Paris talks who is regarded here as a ranking official of the Hanoi government.

It is known to North Vietnam that the United States cannot accept the demand to negotiate separately with the NLF, political arm of the Viet Cong.

The standard U.S. position is to agree to talks with North Vietnam with the NLF represented at the negotiating table as part of the Hanoi team.

The United States also is insisting that the Saigon government be represented at the negotiating table if the preliminary meetings prepare the way for peace talks.

Man Receives Heart, Kidney Transplants

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A 52-year-old truck driver has received a heart and a kidney in a dual transplant operation at the University of Colorado Medical Center.

Relatives identified the recipient as John W. Lanning of Portland, Ore. They said the donor was an auto crash victim.

The medical center would say only that the surgery had been performed. Officials would not name the patient or give other details.

The White House is on 18 acres and includes 132 rooms, 39 bathrooms, 13 gatehouses, bomb shelter, swimming pool, movie theater, doctor's office and rose garden.

RAISING THE FLAGS. Al Sayre, colonel of the VFW Post 66 drill team, national rifle champions, and Morris Koerber of the post raise the American flag and the Ohio state flag preceding the dedication service at the high school Sunday.

Gosney Renews Attack On Those Who 'Tear Down'

COLUMBIANA — Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democratic chairman, has assailed what he terms the "tear-down" attitude of the Republican party and others both in the county and nationwide.

Speaking Tuesday to the Columbiana Women's Democrat Club during "Candidates Night" in the VFW Hall, Gosney said he was startled by slogans on some of the GOP billboards as he traveled to East Liverpool.

He cited one which reads "Stop Crime in the Streets and Make Them Safe."

Gosney pointed out that a Republican sheriff has served the county since 1940; that East Liverpool has a Republican mayor, responsible for the city's law enforcement program, and that Ohio has a Republican governor, the state's chief law officer.

He reminded that the President of the United States has no law enforcement duties as such.

Slapping at those who claim the "Great Society" is sick, Gosney declared it is anything but, "although there may be a few people who are."

He called the U.S. "still the greatest nation in the world, with the greatest form of government known to man."

He said that "for every bad teen-ager there are 100,000 good ones who get no publicity—with the same true of Negroes."

"I think it's time for people to start selling this great land of ours instead of knocking it apart," he declared.

Gosney said "that any party which has to resort to this type of negative advertising has little to offer. . ." in referring to what he called the GOP approach.

Cleveland City Council Target Of Protest Group

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Nearly 200 Negroes and a handfull of whites disrupted a meeting of Cleveland City Council Tuesday when they demanded the right to protest "law and order" speeches made last week by two councilmen.

The group, carrying the black red and green Black Nationalists' flag, said afterwards they were also concerned about the activities of some policemen and wanted all white police withdrawn from black communities and a black police force set-up.

Last week Councilmen Edward F. Katalinas and Anthony P. Garofoli spoke about "anarchy" on the city's East Side and called for a return to law and order.

As Katalinas prepared Tuesday to speak again about crime in the city the protestors rose with him and began waving the flag.

Council President James V. Stanton demanded several times that the flag be removed but the group ignored the request until Law Director Clarence L. James asked for order. The protestors then sat down and the flag was removed.

Katalinas was eventually allowed to speak but was frequently taunted and interrupted.

He said during the past week there had been reports of attacks on children going to and coming home from school on the city's East Side.

Money Troubles To Force Closing Of Lake Schools

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The Perry Board of Education in eastern Lake County decided Tuesday night to temporarily close schools after classes Oct. 15 because of money troubles.

The recommendation was made by School Supt. Richard L. Jones, who told the board: "We don't have enough money to meet the payroll for teachers and other personnel at the end of October."

Jones added: "We hope to open the schools in late November with a payment of state aid due that month."

The decision will affect 1,857 pupils in the Perry Local School District.

Perry High School, however, will continue its football schedule.

Jones said basketball and the rest of the athletic program may be discontinued.

Gosney Renews Attack On Those Who 'Tear Down'

COLUMBIANA — Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democratic chairman, has assailed what he terms the "tear-down" attitude of the Republican party and others both in the county and nationwide.

Speaking Tuesday to the Columbiana Women's Democrat Club during "Candidates Night" in the VFW Hall, Gosney said he was startled by slogans on some of the GOP billboards as he traveled to East Liverpool.

He cited one which reads "Stop Crime in the Streets and Make Them Safe."

Gosney pointed out that a Republican sheriff has served the county since 1940; that East Liverpool has a Republican mayor, responsible for the city's law enforcement program, and that Ohio has a Republican governor, the state's chief law officer.

He reminded that the President of the United States has no law enforcement duties as such.

Slapping at those who claim the "Great Society" is sick, Gosney declared it is anything but, "although there may be a few people who are."

He called the U.S. "still the greatest nation in the world, with the greatest form of government known to man."

He said that "for every bad teen-ager there are 100,000 good ones who get no publicity—with the same true of Negroes."

"I think it's time for people to start selling this great land of ours instead of knocking it apart," he declared.

Gosney said "that any party which has to resort to this type of negative advertising has little to offer. . ." in referring to what he called the GOP approach.

Cleveland City Council Target Of Protest Group

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Nearly 200 Negroes and a handfull of whites disrupted a meeting of Cleveland City Council Tuesday when they demanded the right to protest "law and order" speeches made last week by two councilmen.

The group, carrying the black red and green Black Nationalists' flag, said afterwards they were also concerned about the activities of some policemen and wanted all white police withdrawn from black communities and a black police force set-up.

Last week Councilmen Edward F. Katalinas and Anthony P. Garofoli spoke about "anarchy" on the city's East Side and called for a return to law and order.

As Katalinas prepared Tuesday to speak again about crime in the city the protestors rose with him and began waving the flag.

Council President James V. Stanton demanded several times that the flag be removed but the group ignored the request until Law Director Clarence L. James asked for order. The protestors then sat down and the flag was removed.

Katalinas was eventually allowed to speak but was frequently taunted and interrupted.

He said during the past week there had been reports of attacks on children going to and coming home from school on the city's East Side.

2 Accused In Theft In Store At Midland

Two juvenile girls from the Burgettstown area are being held at Allencrest today on charges of shoplifting at the G. C. Murphy Co. store in Midland Tuesday at 10:15 a.m.

They are accused of stealing merchandise totaling $12, including shoes, children's jeans and shirts.

Watched by Ed Bishoff, store manager, the girls were taken into custody by Midland police who turned them over to Beaver County juvenile officers.

Police Chief Vincent D'Itri said officers have been alerted to be on the lookout for shoplifters and violators will be prosecuted.

Money Troubles To Force Closing Of Lake Schools

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The Perry Board of Education in eastern Lake County decided Tuesday night to temporarily close schools after classes Oct. 15 because of money troubles.

The recommendation was made by School Supt. Richard L. Jones, who told the board: "We don't have enough money to meet the payroll for teachers and other personnel at the end of October."

Jones added: "We hope to open the schools in late November with a payment of state aid due that month."

The decision will affect 1,857 pupils in the Perry Local School District.

Perry High School, however, will continue its football schedule.

Jones said basketball and the rest of the athletic program may be discontinued.

Levies of 6.9 mills and 10 aimed at eliminating deficits failed in special elections May 7 and Aug. 13. The 10 - mill levy has been resubmitted by the board for Nov. 5.

New Coin Box Aims To Discourage Thefts

CINCINNATI (AP) — City Council's Public Utilities Committee is looking into possibilities of installing a new type con box aboard city buses which should discourage robbers.

The city has undergone a rash of bus robberies in recent months. At least one driver was wounded during a holdup.

Willis D. Gradison, committee chairman, said the coin box now under appraisal prevents entry without special keys and has been used successfully in Washington, D. C.; Baltimore, and Philadelphia.

Bus drivers would not be able to make change, but would give script to riders which could be cashed in.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Why Pick Up The Pieces?

DEAR HELOISE: For all you seamstresses with portable sewing machines may I suggest taking the machine cover off and placing it — upside down. Use it for a thread catcher.

Heloise

It's large enough and hard to miss when placed conveniently.

The handle on top (which is now underneath) tips the cover toward you just enough so that it's real handy!

Sure saves having to sweep or vacuum the floor each time!

JUST LAZY.

Not lazy, doll, but practical. Keeps all the litter in one spot.

Terrific! Saves getting out the wastebasket, too.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's another idea for those coffee can plastic lids.

With my pinking shears, I cut a three-inch triangle from one. This makes a professional finish if it's used as a "squiggler" on cake icings.

MRS. EVELYN BELCHER.

DEAR HELOISE: Just read one mother's idea for getting her children to eat eggs. Would like to pass on my trick to get them to eat liver.

It's real easy . . . I just have it ground in with my hamburger!

Mix bread crumbs, chopped onions, seasoning and broil. No one, not even the older children, knows it's in the finlished product.

BETTY SCHMIDT.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: When my husband failed to understand what you meant by "The second wife always has a maid," I began to explain, "If a wife died from overwork . . ." at which point he broke into spasms of laughter and I never did finish my explanation.

MRS. J. C.

All I can say is — MEN!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I own a two-piece dress — a skirt with a long overblouse that zips up the whole length of the back.

I have been unable to wear this outfit for two seasons because of my added weight. The skirt was so tight around my waist I couldn't close the zipper, much less fasten that top button. And there was really no room in the seams to let it out.

Here's my solution.

Starting just below the skirt zipper, I cut the skirt in half. Then I sewed the bottom half of the skirt to the bottom of the overblouse.

Now I have a one piece dress with the new low waistline that feels and looks so much better. And so quick and easy to do!

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Use Scissors To Cut Hangnails

Q—I get frequent hangnails. What can I do to prevent them?

Dr. Brandstadt

A—You should take care not to pull loose any skin or nail tags that form at the edge of your nails. Cut them gently with nail scissors. Because the roots of these hangnails are so easily infected, you should keep your hands and nails clean and, if a nail tag becomes irritated, apply thimerosal (Merthiolate) at once to ward off infection.

Q—What can I do about toenails that are thick and hard? If I soak my feet to soften my nails, this aggravates my eczema.

A—If this is an inherited trait, no preventive measures are possible. In many persons, however, the cause is wearing shoes that are too short and not keeping the nails trimmed. That is why this condition is seen on the toenails but almost never on the fingernails. If you can't trim your toenails with scissors, you should file them. Meanwhile, why not find the cause of your eczema and treat it?

Q—Some sort of disease is eating my husband's fingernails away. He has been treated for a fungus and psoriasis but the condition keeps getting worse. Do you know of any cure?

A—Possible causes in addition to fungus (ringworm) are infections, exposure to harmful chemicals and diabetes. Have a skin specialist determine the underlying cause and treat it.

Q—What makes my fingernails split and peel? How can I prevent this?

A—This is often due to prolonged exposure to detergents or to the frequent use of nail polish remover. Your nail polish gives support to your nails, so why not add new coats of polish without removing the old? Nail hardeners are available but they must be used with caution or they will cause severe irritation of your cuticle.

Q—What would cause my toenails to go black or yellow-brown?

A—Taking preparations that contain arsenic or mercury is a possible cause. Some fungus diseases cause the nails to become black or brown. A dead nail becomes yellow-brown and a severe injury with bleeding under the nail will give it a black appearance.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I make good, thin hamburgers?

A. — By placing the meat between two pieces of waxed paper and rolling with a rolling pin, or mashing between your hands (the hamburgers won't stick to the paper). Then fry them, and you'll find that hamburgers rolled thin this way will cook much more quickly.

Q. — How can I remove chocolate or cocoa stains from fabrics?

A. — By sprinkling powdered borax over the area, soaking the fabric in cold water for about a half - hour, then pouring boiling water through the stain.

Q. — How can I deal with the black deposits that have built up in the grout joints of my bathroom wall tile?

A. — Merely by dampening a cloth with ordinary kerosene, and scrubbing the joints until the soil and grease have dissolved. And the coating left on will discourge the accumulation of more grease.

Nail hardeners are available but they must be used with caution or they will cause severe irritation of your cuticle.

Q—What would cause my toenails to go black or yellow-brown?

A—Taking preparations that contain arsenic or mercury is a possible cause. Some fungus diseases cause the nails to become black or brown. A dead nail becomes yellow-brown and a severe injury with bleeding under the nail will give it a black appearance.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I make good, thin hamburgers?

A. — By placing the meat between two pieces of waxed paper and rolling with a rolling pin, or mashing between your hands (the hamburgers won't stick to the paper). Then fry them, and you'll find that hamburgers rolled thin this way will cook much more quickly.

Q. — How can I remove chocolate or cocoa stains from fabrics?

A. — By sprinkling powdered borax over the area, soaking the fabric in cold water for about a half - hour, then pouring boiling water through the stain.

Q. — How can I deal with the black deposits that have built up in the grout joints of my bathroom wall tile?

A. — Merely by dampening a cloth with ordinary kerosene, and scrubbing the joints until the soil and grease have dissolved. And the coating left on will discourge the accumulation of more grease.

Policy Holders Of Hospital Care Face Rate Boost

CINCINNATI (AP) — About 400,000 Southwest Ohio policy holders of Hospital Care can expect premium increases of about 25 per cent beginning Nov. 1.

The increase affects policy holders in groups of less than 100 and group conversions.

Paul Young, Hospital Care executive, said the Ohio Department of Insurance forced the increase by its alteration of the merit rating system. He said thr two groups have not had rates boosts since 1964.

Family plan premiums will increase from about $13 to $16.

For the conversion policy holder, covered formerly under large group plans, rates will be raised slighily under the 25 per cent mark. Small groups, less than 100, will climb slightly over 25 per cent.

Swaziland, a rapidly developing monarchy smaller than New Jersey and with fewer people than Newark, gained independence Sept. 6, 1968.

Junior Editors Quiz on INDIAN TRIBES

QUESTION: Which were the important North American Indian tribes?

ANSWER: At least 60 could be listed, too many to include here. North American Indians are often divided into five large groupings, each of which lived generally in the same manner. The Eastern Forest Indians (1) occupied the eastern half of North America. They hunted in the woods and fished the lakes and rivers, also raising some crops, such as corn, beans and squash. Some important tribes were the Cherokee, Creek, Illinois, Iroquois, Mohican, Narraganset and Shawnee. Plains Indians (2) lived in the grassy land between the Mississippi and the Rockies. Here, they chased the buffalo and lived in hide tipis. Tribes included the Cheyenne, Sioux, Blackfoot, Comanche and Pawnee. The Southwest Indians (3) lived by farming. They raised corn, squash and beans, as well as growing and weaving cotton. Some tribes built mud (adobe) houses grouped together into pueblos; they also made beautiful pottery. Tribes included the Hohokam, Pueblo and Navaho, and the wandering Apache. Other large groupings were the Northwestern Coast Indians, and the Indians of the California mountains.

(Wilma Jarvis of Catlettsburg, Ky., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
